Bureau Grant Portion Asked

Debate on the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau's annual grant, presumed in abeyance until the City Council goes into estimates, may take place at next Monday's regular council session.

On file today were communications dealing with the question.

The bureau stated its directors would appreciate it if the council would forward $3,000 on account of part payment of the annual grant made by the City of Victoria to the bureau.

"This request is made at this time," the letter said, "to enable the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau to meet its current expenses and its essential commitments."

Another communication forwarded by the bureau encloses a report on plans made by the federal government tourist development committee to continue activity this year.

WANTS GRANT OUT

From P. J. Sinnott, barrister and solicitor, comes another letter stating in part, "I am writing you on my own behalf and on behalf of a large number of merchants and others who are licensees, to request your council to discontinue during the period of the war the annual grant to the Victoria Tourist Bureau. It is felt that in the present emergency it is not only unpatriotic but also grossly extravagant and wholly unnecessary."

The letter continues with arguments supporting the writer's belief tourist traffic will be negligible owing to numerous restrictions.

Churchill Says U.S. Troops To Free British for Campaigns

LONDON (AP).—Following is the text in part of Prime Minister Churchill's speech today in the House of Commons:

No one can say that this has not been a full and free debate. No one can say that it has not been a necessary debate. Many will think it has been a valuable one.

In no country in the world at the present time could a government conducting war be exposed to such stress. No dictator country fighting for its life dare allow such discussion.

Even in the great democracy of the United States the executive does not stand in the same direct, immediate, day-to-day relations to the legislative body as we do.

During my visit to America, events occurred which altered in a decisive way the question of creating a ministry of production. President Roosevelt had appointed Mr. Donald Nelson to supervise the whole field of American production.

All the resources of our two countries are now pooled in shipping, munitions and raw materials, and some similar office . . . must be created here if harmonious and complete working between Great Britain and the United States is maintained at this very high level.

There are only a few points with which I shall deal this afternoon, but they are important points.

First, there is the advantage not only to Britain but to the Empire of the arrival of a powerful American army and air force in the United Kingdom. First, it meets the wish of the American people and leaders of the republic that the large mass of trained and equipped troops they have in the armies of the United States shall come into contact with the enemy as close and as soon as possible.

Secondly, the presence of these forces in these islands will impart greater freedom of movement overseas to theatres where we already are engaged and greater movement of matured and seasoned divisions of the British army and will avoid the difficulty of reinforcing theatres in which we are engaged with troops of another nation with all the complications of armament and command which arise therefrom.

Thirdly, the presence in our islands of a force and the establishment of a broader bridgehead between us and the new world constitute an important additional deterrent to invasion at a time when successful invasion of these islands is Hitler's last remaining hope of total victory.

Fourthly . . . the fact that well-equipped American divisions can be sent into these islands so easily and rapidly will enable substantial supplies of weapons and munitions now being made in the United States to be sent direct to the other side of the world—to Australia and New Zealand to meet new dangers to the home defence of the Japanese war. Lastly, this whole business cannot do Mr. de Valera any harm and it may do him some good.

It certainly offers a measure of protection to southern Ireland as a whole which she could not otherwise enjoy.

Preparations Against Japan

The course of this debate has mainly turned upon the admitted inadequacy of our preparations to meet the full onslaught of a new and mighty opponent who has launched against us his whole energies and fury in Malaya and the Far East.

I do not of course pretend that these may not have been avoidable shortcomings and mistakes, or that more foresight might not have been shown in making use of our resources.

While I take full responsibility for the broad, strategic dispositions, that does not mean that scandals, inefficiency or misbehavior of functionaries at the particular moment or in part will not be proved and that they will be covered by the general support I gave our commanders in the field.

I by no means say that faults have not been committed in a minor sphere, faults for which the government is blamed.

But when all is said and done the House must not be led into supposing that even if everything on the spot had gone perfectly, which is rare in war . . . that this would have made any decisive difference to the heavy British and American forces which followed inexorably upon the temporary loss of seapower in the Pacific, combined with the fact of our being so fully extended elsewhere.

Our ability to defend the Malay Peninsula was seriously prejudiced by the incursion of the Japanese into French Indo-China and the steady building up of very powerful forces and bases there.

Even at the time when I went to meet the President off Newfoundland, invasion of Siam seemed imminent and probable.

It was due to measures which the President took as a result of our conversations that this attack was stayed off for so long and might well have been stayed off indefinitely.

In ordinary circumstances, if we had not been engaged to the last ounce in Europe and the Nile valley, we should ourselves of course have confronted the Japanese aggression into Indo-China with the strongest possible resistance from the moment when they began to build up large military and air power there.

We were not in position to do this.

Ought we not then in the interval—I want to argue the case quite clearly—have refused our aid in munitions to Russia?

Part of what we sent to Russia would have made us . . . far better prepared in Malaya and Burma . . . and would really have dazzled the eyes of Brooke Popham.

We did not make such a reduction and I believe the vast majority of opinion in parts of the House and country endorses our decision.

Libya Campaign Eased Russian Front

But apart from Russia what about the campaign in Libya? Firstly, we hoped to remove, and we probably have removed, the menace to the Nile valley from the west . . .

Secondly, this seemed the only place where we could open a second front against the enemy.

There is no doubt whatever, although our offensive in Libya was on a small scale compared with the mighty struggle on the Russian front, it nevertheless drew important German air forces from the Russian front.

They were moved at the most critical moment of the battle and transferred to the Mediterranean theatre.

Thirdly, this second front . . . afforded an opportunity of a fighting campaign against Germany and Italy on terms most costly to them.

Should we have been right to sacrifice all this and stand idle, on the defensive in the western desert, sending all available resources to garrison Malaya and to guard against war with Japan which might never have taken place and which I believe only did take place through civil government being overwhelmed by a military coup d'etat?

Reinforcements Speed to Malaya

I come now to the battle raging in Johore. I cannot tell how it will go or how the attack on the island of Singapore will go. But a steady flow of reinforcements, both aircraft and troops, has flowed into the island for several weeks past. All the forces which have been sent were set in motion within a few days; some within a few hours of the Japanese declaration of war.

To sum up, I submit that the main strategic political decision to aid Russia, deliver an offensive in Libya and accept a consequential state of weakness in the then peaceful theatre of the Far East was sound.

For this vote of confidence, on that I rest.

Answers Questions On Loss of Warships

There, however, is one episode, tactical rather than strategic in character, about which many questions have been asked. The operation which led to the sinking of the Prince of Wales and the Repulse . . .

I have been asked very properly why the Prince of Wales and Repulse were sent to eastern waters if they could not properly be protected by aircraft?

The answer is that the decision to send these ships in advance to the Far East was taken in hope primarily of deterring Japan from going to war at all, or failing that, deterring her from sending convoys into the Gulf of Siam.

The suggestion that the naval staff desired to send an aircraft carrier and was overruled by me is as mischievous as it is untrue.

Unfortunately at the time, with the exception of an aircraft carrier in home waters, not a single ship of this kind was available through a series of accidents, some of very slight consequence.

All of them except this one with the Home Fleet were under repair.

Admiral Knew He Faced Risks

Admiral Sir Tom Phillips . . . decided . . . in view of the movement of Japanese transports with weak fighting escort toward the Kra Isthmus that drastic and urgent naval action was required.

Admiral Phillips was fully aware of the risks he was taking.

Only after he had left the harbor was he informed that fighter protection could not be provided.

His force was attacked not, as has been supposed, by torpedo or bomber aircraft flown off a carrier, but by very long-range, shore-based, heavy, two-engine bombers from a main Japanese airbase 400 miles away.

In the opinion of the Board of Admiralty . . . the risks Admiral Phillips took were fair and reasonable.

On behalf of His Majesty's government I make no complaint of the debate. I offer no apologies. I offer no excuses. I make no promises.

Let every man act now in accordance with what he thinks is his duty in harmony with his heart and conscience.

OVERSEAS MAIL

OTTAWA (CP).—Postmaster General Mulock again draws attention to a falling-off in the correct addressing of mail for men overseas, and in particular to those members of the R.C.A.F. serving with R.A.F. units.

As location of these men is kept by the R.C.A.F. record rather than by the R.C.A.F. it is essential the addressee is with a R.A.F. unit be indicated by including the words "attached Royal Air Force" in the address unless the number of the R.A.F. unit is known, which should in that case be given. It also helps if the indication "Royal Canadian Air Force Overseas" is given instead of "Canadian Army Overseas."

The address of men of the R.C.A.F. serving overseas should include the following information:

If serving with a R.C.A.F. unit overseas:

Number, Rank, surname, followed by initials.

Name of unit (when known), Royal Canadian Air Force, Overseas.

Example for R.C.A.F. unit: (Can.) R 1723, Sgt. Black, J. W., No. 401 Squadron, R.C.A.F., Royal Canadian Air Force, Overseas.

If attached to an R.A.F. unit overseas:

Number, Rank, surname, followed by initials.

Name of Royal Air Force unit, Royal Canadian Air Force, Overseas.

Example, when R.A.F. unit is known: (Can.) R1926, L.A.C. Jones, A. N., No. 10 Squadron, R.A.F., Royal Canadian Air Force, Overseas.

Example, when unit of R.A.F. is not known: (Can.) R2176, A.C. Smith, W.F., Attached Royal Air Force, Royal Canadian Air Force, Overseas.

In the case of R.C.A.F. officers the form of address is the same except the air force number should be written after the name and rank of the officer.

Place-names may be used in addressing mail to officers and airmen with R.A.F. units, but

Boost in Price Of Onions Halted

VANCOUVER (CP).—W. R. Dowrey, prices and supply representative here of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, said today that a price rise of $10 per ton on "cold storage" onions quoted by the Interior Vegetable Marketing Agency Ltd., has been halted because of a ceiling placed on onions by the board.

Mr. Dowrey said a circular issued from the marketing agency at Kelowna quoted onions ex-cold storage, No. 1, 100 pounds sacked, at $70 per ton, f.o.b. Kelowna, but as the government had clamped a ceiling on onions Jan. 21, fixing the ceiling at the price prevailing from Jan. 5 to Jan. 10, the Kelowna action is an infringement of the regulations. The agency's previous price was $60 per ton.

Mr. Dowrey said investigation by the board showed the agency's increase was not justified and the agency had been notified to revert to its former price.

Ex-Parisian Joins Canada's Army

PORT ARTHUR, Ont. (CP)—A former soldier in the United States and French armies, Robert Roger Du Monte, 42, of Phillips, Wis., has joined the Canadian army here "to get square with the Nazis" for shooting two of his older brothers in a concentration camp.

Du Monte, native of Paris, was accepted for a forestry regiment when he appeared here Wednesday with a letter showing he had been rejected by the U.S. army, with which he served from 1919 to 1925. His age barred him from the U.S. forces.

"I heard about my brothers being shot two months ago," Du Monte said. "My mother wrote me from Paris. I was furious. My brothers were officers, as my father had been before them and I have a good idea of how

Plenty of Whisky To Last Out War

NEW YORK—To keep up their spirits, people will drink 20 per cent more whisky in 1942 than they did last year, according to spokesmen for the liquor trade. Dealers and manufacturers expect this increase to accelerate suddenly in the event of air raids.

Despite OPM's priorities restrictions on the distilling industry, the only depletions in the stocks of bars and stores will be of current and no-age whiskies which will not be replaced, reports the Bar Association Grill Journal.

Good whisky in storage and bond today is sufficient to last another seven years even at the expected increased rate of consumption. If imports from Scotland, England, Spain and South America are not cut off, the liquor supply will last 10 to 12 years, it is said.

The Germans treat French officers."

Du Monte was a professional boxer in the middle 1920's and has fought in 37 amateur and 97 professional bouts. He said he was fourth in the national lightweight rankings in 1929 when Sammy Mandell was champion of that division.

Dandurand Honored By Senate Members

OTTAWA (CP)—Senator Raul Dandurand, government Senate leader, was honored late Wednesday by senators from both sides of the chamber, who presented him with a bronze bust of himself.

The presentation, which took place in the Senate chamber, was attended by Prime Minister Mackenzie King and representatives of the cabinet. Senator Dandurand, called to the Senate in 1938, celebrated his 80th birthday last Nov. 4.

In a presentation address read by Hon. George Parent, Speaker of the Senate, the bust, by Alfred Laliberte of Montreal, was described as "a token of our esteem and admiration."

A copy of the bust is to remain in the Senate chamber "to perpetuate the memory of your fine qualities and in the hope that your successors may find it a source of inspiration and encouragement," Senator Parent said.

Prime Minister King referred to Senator Dandurand as "a great parliamentarian and a great Canadian." At the age of 80 he was still young in thought and as the only remaining member of the Senate appointed in the time of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, he was a link between the past and the present.

Scapegoats Needed

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Churchill is wrong in saying Britain does not want scapegoats for past failures, Capt. J. H. F. McEwen, Conservative member for Berwick and Haddington, told the House of Commons.

He declared the public enjoyed nothing more than seeing ministerial changes, because it makes it feel things are on the move.

"It is invidious to mention names," Capt. McEwen continued, "but I would like to mention Lord Beaverbrook. The charge against him is briefly this:

"His effect upon any given industry is that of a perniciously mixed cocktail—highly stimulating for an hour or two and leaving a peculiarly virulent hang-over after."

B.C. Flier Died

VANCOUVER (CP)—P.O. Arthur Williams, 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Williams, Vancouver, posted as missing Nov. 26, died in the Irish Sea after shooting down a German Junkers 88, his parents have been informed in a letter from his squadron leader.

The letter said the body was recovered 19 days afterward and soon afterward the bodies of the German airmen were found. P.O. Williams was buried at Pembroke, Wales, will Tull military honors.

Pacific Strategy

New Zealand Wants Council Stationed in Washington

AUCKLAND (CP)—Prime Minister Peter Fraser said New Zealand would prefer to have the proposed Pacific war council established in Washington, where one of her ablest statesmen, Walter Nash, is stationed as minister.

"We don't reject Prime Minister Churchill's proposal that the Pacific council should sit in London," Mr. Fraser said, "but we prefer its establishment in Washington, where there should be adequate opportunities for consultation of representatives of the Pacific allies—and where the combined chiefs of staffs committee is operating."

Mr. Fraser added that while New Zealand never had regarded the question of war cabinet representation in London as gravely as had Australia, the Dominion nevertheless would be pleased to accept the seat offered by Mr. Churchill. In fact, he said, New Zealand has requested representation on the same basis as Australia.

The Prime Minister stressed that New Zealanders, despite reverses in the Pacific, maintain utmost confidence in Mr. Churchill's leadership.

NOT EMPIRE CABINET

The New Zealand Herald, in a leading editorial on the war cabinet announcement, pointed out that the appointment of Dominion representatives does not turn the British War Cabinet into an imperial cabinet.

"The possibility of that happening is open to further doubt since it is suggested that Canada is skeptical of this development and may not send representatives," the Herald added.

"Unless all the Dominions fell into line there could not be an imperial cabinet in name, much less in reality. Meanwhile, Australia is being given what was ardently desired—a chance to be heard in Pacific policy, and New Zealand is to have an equal voice."

In the Commons in Ottawa Wednesday Prime Minister King said that so far the existing machinery for consultation with British government had proved satisfactory to Canada. However, the Canadian government would avail itself of the privilege of representation in the British war cabinet if at any time it should find the existing machinery unsatisfactory.

Mr. King read the text of Mr. Churchill's statement in the British Commons and said it was clear from it that the power to make decisions and the responsibility for decisions would remain with the British war cabinet.

"The right accorded to Australia and the other Dominions was that of being heard in the making of policy. This proposal related to the machinery for consultation among the governments of the British Commonwealth."

RECALLS GENERALS
LONDON (CP)—The anti-Nazi German language newspaper, Die Zeitung, published in London, says that a compromise reached by Hitler and certain elements of the German high command is "equivalent to an admission on the part of Hitler that he is unable to carry on the east (Russian) campaign without the aid of experienced strategists."

An extract from the newspaper, circulated by the British Ministry of Information, declares that commanders Von Bock, Von Rundstedt, Von Leeb and others "have been confirmed and they are now in charge of new armies."

The price Hitler paid for the compromise was mainly a promise to reduce the recently strong voice of Heinrich Himmler, Gestapo Chief, in military affairs and send him back to the Reich from headquarters on the eastern front.

However, Die Zeitung declared, Himmler is still the strongest man in Germany after Hitler.

British M.P. Queries

Wants Hongkong Experts Shelved

LONDON (CP)—Oswald Lewis, Conservative, has given notice he will ask Prime Minister Churchill "whether the military experts who advised the government the dispatch of a Canadian contingent to Hongkong would enable resistance of the garrison to be prolonged for a long time as still retained as expert advisers on military matters to the government, or what other use now is being made of their services?"

Three other notices concerning Canada appeared on the order paper of the House of Commons. Geoffrey Mander, Liberal, intends to ask Foreign Secretary Eden if he will "state the present position with regard to the French islands of St. Pierre and Miquelon and the reason why the British government asked the Canadian government to remain in diplomatic relations with Vichy when the British government has itself severed such relations?"

Thelma Cazale, Conservative, wants to know whether the Ministry of War Transport "found it possible to arrange any better facilities for return to this country of women and children evacuated to the United States and Canada?"

Wing Commander A. W. H. James will ask Col. J. J. Lewell, the parliamentary secretary to the transport ministry, whether he is aware of the fact that in the changed circumstances many British women and children evacuated to the United States and Canada now have valid reasons, such as obligations now developing upon their hosts, for wishing to return to the United Kingdom and whether he will give assurance that all such persons shall be given priority in the matter of passage facilities over all aliens sent from the United Kingdom for internment?"

War Claims Less Than Anticipated

TORONTO—Deaths due to war accounted for only 5 per cent of 1941 life insurance claims, V. R. Smith, general manager, stated at the 70th annual meeting of Confederation Life Association. Since war broke out in 1939, war claims had been only 3 per cent of the total—much less than had been anticipated.

H. W. Merrick, manager at Hongkong, and R. N. Bray, manager at Singapore, were in Canada on luncheon when Japan attacked. Mr. Smith said he had reason to believe that P. M. Wallis, manager at Shanghai, also was alive and well. Mr. Smith said that many Confederation Life policyholders in the Far East had seen the war clouds coming and were in safer surroundings elsewhere. All assets against liabilities in China were in the company's Toronto vaults he revealed.

New business in 1941 totaled $58,142,580, the greatest since 1930. Business in force reached an all-time high of $463,289,489. This gain of more than $18,000,000 was the best in 10 years. Other features were, a favorable rate of mortality, though higher than last year, an earned interest rate of 4.46 per cent, the same as last year, and an expense rate, on the usual "60-to-1" basis, excluding taxes, of less than last year. Taxes, an uncontrollable item, were $330,000 more than in 1940.

Surplus for the year was $1,824,874. Total unallotted surplus reached $5,144,307, an increase of $98,950. In addition, however, and in line with its steady policy of strengthening surplus, Mr. Smith said the Confederation Life had a further surplus of more than $4,000,000 not carried into accounts, made up of a potential surplus on exchange and an excess of market values of the book values of its securities.

Tory Senators For Conscription

OTTAWA (CP)—Three Conservative senators, speaking in the Senate debate on the address in reply to the Throne Speech, Wednesday, opposed the government's proposed plebiscite on manpower.

A pre-election pledge, said Senator Iva Fallis, Conservative, Ontario, was not sufficient reason for taking a vote.

"The mothers, wives and sweethearts of the men at Hongkong are not at all interested in pre-election pledges, and majority of Canadian women are of the same mind," she said.

Breaking of pledges was not to be condoned, but there had been many occasions in the past when election promises, some of them made by Prime Minister Mackenzie King, were thrown in the wastepaper basket, she said. And this was a time of emergency.

"How are we answering Mr. Churchill's call when he said here 'There is not a day to be lost'?" Senator Fallis asked.

Sensor Louis Cote, Conservative, Ontario, called on Quebec members of the government to go into their constituencies and tell the people of the sacrifice required by Canada, a sacrifice extending to compulsory overseas service.

"There is no necessity to split the country in twain by this melancholy scheme which will lead nowhere," he said.

"This situation calls for courage and a sense of duty," Senator Cote said. "It can not be met by a plebiscite."

Sensor F. B. Black, Conservative, New Brunswick, compared Canada's war effort with that of Australia. On a basis of comparative population Canada should, to equal Australia, have 1,000,000 men under arms rather than the 527,000 just reported to the House of Commons, he said.

R.A.F. MAN HELD ON GRAVE CHARGE

LONDON (CP)—Squad Leader F. J. Rutland of the R.A.F., who returned from the United States last October, is being detained for "alleged hostile associations" with the Japanese while in Washington, an official spokesman announced today.

Detention of the veteran pilot involves "important military questions," he said.

Rutland was a flier in the first Great War, and while piloting what was described as "a very hazardous contraption," first spotted the German fleet off Jutland. He was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross for that exploit.

The official spokesman said "very important security considerations are involved in this case, and it is very undesirable the matter should be discussed further."

Both Nazi and British bombers carry balloon-cable cutting devices on their leading edges. However, it seems that the Nazi snipper is far too heavy and thus affects the ship's performance.

Continued Progress By Canada Trust

The Canada Trust Company's 40th annual report for the past year shows an increase of more than $600,000 in assets, the present total being $38,214,000.

Net profits were $130,484, there being little change from those of 1940. These earnings, added to the undivided profits brought forward from the previous year, made available for distribution $198,859, compared with $195,527 for 1940. Dividends of $60,007 were disbursed; taxes amounted to $42,022; $2,500 was subscribed to war charities, and after setting aside $22,566 for transfer to officers' pension fund, the balance of undivided profits carried forward is $71,771, being an increase over the previous year's balance.

Assets of estates, trusts and agencies under administration advanced from $28,186,000 to $28,932,000. Practically no change has taken place in the amount deposited and invested by the public in guaranteed trust and deposit certificates, the total being $7,498,000.

An increase has been made in the holdings of bonds of the Dominion and provinces. These bonds, together with other readily realizable assets and cash in offices and in banks, make the past year's total of liquid assets, $2,014,000, compared with $1,848,000 a year ago. Advances out of the company's own funds for the purpose of meeting succession duty payments and other pressing obligations of estates under administration, amount to $115,000.

The paid-in capital and reserve fund remain unchanged at $1,600,000. Provision for government taxes is higher at $59,000, compared with $45,500 for 1940.

The fortieth annual meeting will be held at the company's head office in London, Ont., Feb. 11.

About $400 damage was done to a car owned by Clifford T. Nash when it and a heavy army truck driven by Pte. S. Marsh collided at Government and Belleville yesterday. The truck was proceeding north on Government and the car east on Belleville. No one was injured.

Wants Pumper in James Bay Area

Fire Chief Alex Munro in his annual report for 1941 to the City Council recommended a pumper truck be placed in James Bay district, with four men on duty for the duration of the war, and some means of fighting fire from the water by use of pumping equipment on a boat or scow be provided.

Chief Munro also recommended the 12-inch main on the Industrial Reserve be extended with at least two more hydrants in this area.

During the year the fire department responded to 543 alarms, 69 of which resulted in property loss. Property at risk through fire was valued at $1,245,008. Fire loss for the year was $69,134.84, of which $62,340.02 was covered by insurance.

Auxiliary equipment for war emergency purposes was added during the year as follows: Two tank wagons, carrying 820 and 400 gallons, one trailer pump, seven forestry pumps and 17,500 feet of one and a half inch hose.

Fire prevention has been improved, Chief Munro reports, by the transfer of one officer to devote his whole time to fire prevention.

Chimney fires were the greatest single cause of alarms. There were 163. Grass and bush fires came second, numbering 108. There were 49 false alarms.

Sooke Organizes For Victory Loan

Preliminary arrangements for Sooke's participation in the island Victory Loan campaign were made at a meeting in Sooke Community Hall Tuesday evening.

Officials from the island divisional headquarters attended and discussed general policy with J. Elliott, A. F. Brownsey, C. A. Helgeson, George Seaton, F. Gray and L. Bestwick.

Formation of a committee to handle the district was left with the Sooke delegates after explanations of needs and technique by the headquarters' workers who included W. F. Munroe, Esquimalt unit organizer; J. D. Hagar, divisional organizer; and F. R. George.

The proposals were enthusiastically received by the Sooke men, all of whom volunteered for work in their district.

Help Self and Help Canada

Every person buying a Victory Bond renders a service both to himself and to his country, F. E. Winslow, Vancouver Island divisional chairman of the Victory Loan committee, emphasized today in an explanation of the value of subscribing to the issue offered by the federal government to help keep the war machine rolling.

Besides helping their country, people who have invested in any of the three previous Canadian war loans have created for themselves a gilt-edged reserve, a fund on which they can draw should the necessity arise in the future, Mr. Winslow said.

"The man who invests in the Victory Loan doesn't just make a contribution to his country at a time when the need for funds to carry on the war is most urgent," he pointed out. "He converts his money into a worthwhile investment. It will be returned to him at maturity and during the intervening years will earn higher than bank rate interest."

People unfamiliar with investments may not understand clearly what a Victory Bond is, Mr. Winslow pointed out. It is a document issued by the government of the Dominion of Canada which promises to repay to the purchaser on a given future date the face value of the bond. It also promises to pay interest every half-year to the purchaser at a fixed rate.

"When you buy a bond you really loan the money paid for the bond to the Dominion government and the government gives you the bond as a receipt or security for the money you have loaned," he explained.

DIFFERENT TYPES

As a convenience to the investor the government has arranged for three forms of bonds and buyers are given a choice of the coupon-bearer bond, the coupon registered bond or the fully registered bond. When the coupon begins, he said, salesmen will gladly explain the features of each.

Mr. Winslow stressed the fact it isn't necessary to have a lot of money to buy a Victory Bond. Any person may buy one, either on the installment plan with payments spread over a period of months, in amounts of $50, $100, $500, $1,000 and upward.

"Because he buys a bond, a purchaser does not necessarily tie up his money until it becomes due," Mr. Winslow said. "Should he require money, the bonds may be used as collateral for a loan at any bank in Canada, or they may be sold at any time through a bank or investment dealer or broker."

Musical Evening At Emmanuel Church

A musical appreciation evening will be held in Emmanuel Baptist Church next Tuesday evening, commencing at 8. It will be sponsored by the Young People's Society of the church. Jack Smith, well-known composer and assistant organist at the First United Church, will lecture on "Music and its Appreciation." Souvenir programs will be distributed by the Y.P.S. Mr. Smith will improvise on themes given by two members of the Y.P.S. The following will take part in the musical program: Miss Byrdie Eilers, Keith Little and James Petrie, vocal solos; Miss Florence Rowley and Miss Esther Dicker, piano numbers, and flute solos by John Gough.

The electric recordings will include part of Cesar Frank's D Minor Symphony, Tchaikowsky's piano concerto in B flat minor and "Nutcracker Suite" and popular numbers by Strauss.

Rev. Wilfrid McKay, minister of the church, will preside. The following committee is in charge: Florence Rowley, Esther Dicker, Opal Abercrombie and Vernon Sands.

Walks Five Miles On 83rd Birthday

Today is the 83rd birthday of J. L. Kew, and to celebrate the occasion he walked into town from his home at Seven Oaks, about five miles out.

"Several kindly motorists offered to pick me up, but I turned them down, because I wanted to walk—several people said it was too far for me," Mr. Kew said.

The upright, bright-eyed octogenarian rises every morning at 4. "But I go to bed about 5 in the afternoon," he explains, "and I sleep right through to 4 in the morning."

He has plenty to do at that hour of the day, and feels his best long before daylight.

Mr. Kew lives alone. "I have good company," he says.

Born in Ontario, Mr. Kew lived for many years in Edmonton before coming to Victoria in 1922.

Fire Republicans Assisted By Nazi Agents

DUBLIN (AP)—The charge that Nazi leaders, dropped by parachute on Eire and later arrested, were "in active collaboration with the Irish Republican Army" was made in the Dail Wednesday night by Opposition Leader John Dillon.

Dillon made the charge after Justice Minister George Boland had declared that the banned I.R.A. was attempting "to bring outsiders into this country."

He referred to the arrest of one parachutist, Hermann Goertz, some months after he had landed in June of 1940, and said it was "common knowledge that this man was in close contact with the I.R.A. for nine months before he was laid by the heels."

"I.R.A. members have availed themselves of the support of a foreign regime whose agents are making use of them for the purpose of conquest."

The proceeds will augment the local Red Cross Russian Relief Fund for the purpose of sending further medical supplies to Russia.

Great West Life Has Good Year

A year of substantial increases is shown in the preliminary report of the Great West Life Assurance Company's 50th annual statement released today. The figures indicate 1941 was a most satisfactory year for the company.

Business in force climbed to a total of more than $690,457,610, increasing over $20,000,000, with new business placed amounting to $62,766,744, a rise of $9,364,879. A new high was recorded in assets, these increasing to $180,608,357. Liabilities, practically all in the form of policyholders' reserves, totaled $173,807,942. The balance, representing surplus, contingency reserve and capital, amounting to $68,801,015, provides an added safeguard to policyholders.

Total payments to policyholders and beneficiaries during the year were $15,884,814; of this amount $11,318,490 went to living policyholders. Passing the half-century mark in business, the company has paid to policyholders and beneficiaries a total of more than $250,000,000.

The Purchase of Sugar Is Now Regulated by Law

AS a prudent precaution, the quantity of sugar which may lawfully be consumed in any household is now restricted by law to an amount of three-quarters of one pound per person per week, and it is now unlawful to purchase more than two weeks' supply at any one time or to make any purchase if present supplies are sufficient for more than two weeks.

This step has been taken to conserve the satisfactory reserve stock of sugar in Canada and is an assurance to the consumer that there is no reason for heavy buying of sugar.

Ration coupons will not be used to enforce the sugar limitations in Canada. The supply of sugar in our country has been under control for more than two and a half years and the homekeeper has always been able to satisfy her needs; she will continue to be able to do so and the price ceiling law protects her against any increase in price.

The maintenance of the new regulation governing the purchase of sugar rests, as the success of all laws in a democratic country must rest, upon the loyal support of the people. Any consumption of sugar in excess of the quantity stipulated by this regulation is not only an offence against the law, but is also a betrayal of the war effort and consequently an offence against decency.

Reports received from retailers indicate that in some districts there has been misunderstanding of the requirements of the law. In some cases, people are under the impression that they should, at once lay in a sufficient supply for two weeks; this of course is not necessary because a continued supply of sugar is assured. In other cases it has been assumed that a greatly restricted ration is to be made effective in the near future. This is incorrect because The Wartime Prices and Trade Board has already stated that the sugar supply situation is such that requirements of the consumer at the rate of three-quarters of a pound per week can readily be supplied.

As a means of protecting consumers from unknowingly breaking the law, it is suggested to retailers that, for the present, they limit sales to any one customer to an amount of not more than five pounds.

Summary of Sugar Rationing Regulations

1. The ration is $\frac{3}{4}$ pounds per person per week, including adults, children and infants, members of the family, boarders, servants, and guests who remain for four days or more.
2. Purchase your sugar in the ordinary way, but not more than two weeks' supply at a time. No coupons, stamps or tickets are required.
3. Do not purchase any sugar if you have two weeks' or more supply on hand.
4. Persons in remote areas who are not able to buy every week or two weeks may continue to buy more than two weeks' supply at a time, but should measure their consumption at the ration rate, namely $\frac{3}{4}$ pounds per person per week.
5. Lumber camps and other firms providing board for their employees must see that consumption is restricted to $\frac{3}{4}$ pounds per week per person, effective immediately.
6. Economize on sugar in every way you can; some people can get along on less than the ration. Persons dining in hotels, restaurants, etc., are expected to restrict their sugar consumption.
7. Additional supplies of sugar will be made available for home preserving and canning.
8. The restriction applies only to cane and beet sugars of all kinds—granulated sugar, icing sugar, fruit sugar, brown sugar, raw sugar, etc.
9. Industrial users of sugar, hospitals and other institutions, hotels and restaurants, will be advised by the Sugar Administrator how the sugar restrictions will affect them.
10. Retailers are entitled to refuse sale or to limit sales to any person they have reason to believe is attempting to disregard this law.

Vigorous steps will be taken to punish wilful infractions of the law. The penalties provided are imprisonment for as long as two years and a fine up to $5,000

W.M.S. Aids Families In Peace River Country

"As long as there is a Women's Missionary Society there is a Santa Claus for the children in the north country," said Rev. Harry Parker, army chaplain, in the course of his deeply human-interest talk on Wednesday night at the First United Church on "Adventures in the Far North."

Capt. Parker was speaking at the opening session of the 16th annual meeting of the Victoria Presbyterian Women's Missionary Society, which is continuing its meetings today and Friday. Most of the incidents he cited were drawn from personal experience in Northwint, a small frontier town in the Peace River area, where, partly owing to the rush of new settlers in the years immediately after 1930, there was much want and actual suffering among the families. As missionary it was his responsibility to minister to the spiritual needs, but he was frequently called on to act as doctor, nurse and social welfare worker. Thanks to the W.M.S. he had been able to take much material aid to the impoverished families.

CAME IN DROVES

"The settlers came in droves, without clothes, without provisions—they were in desperate need," he recalled. In a tiny one-room log cabin, with sod floor, he found a family of two adults and five children, one child suffering with a frozen foot in which gangrene had set in. Three children had had to stay indoors the entire winter because they had no clothes. Two boys and the father among them had but a single suit and had to take turns in going out of doors. For six weeks the family had subsisted on a single sack of wheat which they ground and cooked with water.

"I did not stop to read the Bible in places like this," said the speaker, who described how he went to his own home and from the store of garments sent by the W.M.S. selected clothing to meet the plight of this distressed family.

SUPPLY HOSPITAL

The women's generosity went further, for when the need for a hospital came, they supplied that, too, and a doctor and two nurses. This had been a boon to that community of 4,000.

The concluding part of Capt. Parker's story was of more personal character, telling of his wife's death from T.B. contracted as the result of the work in the northern mission field.

"Those people in the north country told me before I left that if I ever talked to the women of the Missionary Society I was to give them the thanks of the north country for what they had done," he concluded.

Introduced by Rev. Hugh A. McLeod, Capt. Parker, who left last night for service overseas, was thanked on behalf of the audience by Mrs. W. H. Muncy, who wished him Godspeed and safe return.

WELCOMES CONVENTION

Mr. McLeod earlier in the proceedings welcomed the delegates. Rev. T. G. Griffiths, chairman of the Victoria United Church Presbytery, conveyed the greetings of that body.

Mrs. Griffiths, president of the W.M.S., urged the need of keeping up the good work in wartime, as it had done in days of peace. It was even more necessary now that the testimony of the truth should go forward. More than 160 mission churches of Scandinavia, France, Holland, Denmark and Germany had been completely cut off from the mother churches by the war conditions. But financial aid was being sent to 112 of these through the international organization, The Canadian church alone had sent $23,500.

Centennial church choir under Mr. J. W. Buckler and with Mr. G. H. Peaker at the organ sang two anthems, "Twilight Shadows Fall" and "Onward Christian Soldiers."

As a propitiation to the gods at early Roman and Greek banquets, a little wine was poured on the floor before eating.

Mrs. Baugh Allan particularly thanked the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, Mary Croft Esquimalt Chapter, I.O.D.E., Esquimalt United Church, Women's Institute, St. Paul's W.A., Esquimalt Community Club, Order of the Eastern Star, Catholic Women's League and the press.

Welfare Helps 157 Families

Plans for the Family Welfare Association annual public meeting, to be held during the last week of February, were discussed at a meeting at the home of E. H. Wilson.

The nominating committee was appointed as follows: Miss Sara Spencer, Dr. Olga Jardine and Rev. F. Comley. It was reported by Mrs. Spurgin, the general secretary, that 49 new applications had been received, 20 of which concerned the families of those in the forces. In all, 157 families were given financial or other assistance during the month of December. Over 200 visits had been made in connection with the work, and 97 office interviews held. Several enquiries had been made for out-of-town agencies. These returns showed a distinct increase over those for the corresponding month in 1940 and 1941.

J. L. W. MacLean and Mrs. M. R. Pearce, in charge of receipts was Mrs. William Head, and the servers were the social committee, Mrs. T. Taylor, Mrs. D. Scott, Mrs. G. D. Robertson, Mrs. P. J. Campbell, Mrs. A. G. Hynd and Miss A. Brookman. A musical program was given during the afternoon, when the soloists were Mrs. J. H. Ratcliffe and Mrs. F. Wilmshurst.

The Qu'Alex Girls' Club met Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Helen Atack, George Street, with the president, Mrs. L. Marion, in the chair. The meeting was opened with prayer read by Miss Edna Coates. Plans were made for a St. Patrick's Day tea and also to send a large bundle to Britain next month, every girl being asked to bring her donation to the next meeting. A discussion was held about the baby's layette to be made by the members. Money for jam to be given to the Solarium and also for Valentine gifts for the two children there who are wards of the club, will be taken from the fund. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. M. Borthwick, 755 Victoria Avenue, Feb. 24, at 8. The meeting was closed with prayer by Miss Coates. Refreshments were served by the hostess. The table, covered with a lace cloth, was centred with a bowl of mixed spring flowers. The mystery box was won by Mrs. Graham and a successful sale of home-cooking was held the proceeds of which will go toward the club's war work.

Mrs. A. Elliott, a prominent member of the Guild, was honored on the occasion of her 80th birthday at the silver tea held Wednesday by the Women's Guild of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. A corsage of gardenias and pink rosebuds was presented to her and to Mrs. D. E. Campbell, at whose home, 1029 Linden Avenue, the affair was held, a corsage of carnations and maidenhair ferns was given. The reception rooms were decorated with fragrant Japanese plum blossoms, heather and pink chrysanthemums, and Japanese plum sprays were arranged in the dining-room. The tea table, covered with a pale green damask cloth, was centred with a floral arrangement of carnations, tulips and snapdragons in shades of pink, offset by branches of maidenhair. Lighted pink candles in tall silver holders completed the centerpiece. Pouring tea were Mrs. A. A. MacKinnon, Mrs. C. W. Hawkins, Mrs. W. L. Clay and Mrs. Alfred Hood, and assisting Mrs. Campbell in receiving the guests were Mrs.

Victoria Girl Holds Exciting Post in R.A.F.

By LOUIS V. HUNTER
YORK, Eng. (CP).—An attractive Canadian girl of 27, who stuck to her post under sustained bombing, holds the distinction of being the first woman radio telephonist in the R.A.F.

She is leading Aircraftwoman Inez Combe of Victoria, one of the handful of Canadians serving with the Women's Auxiliary Air Force. Her hobby of breeding Labrador dogs brought her to London four and a half years ago for veterinary studies.

When crisis followed crisis in 1939, she decided to give up her studies and took an officer's training course with the 20th London-Auxiliary Territorial Service Unit, in which she enlisted in March, 1939.

POSTED TO BALLOON SQUADRON

Miss Combe received her W.A.A.F. calling-up papers the day before war broke out, and was posted to a balloon squadron as a telephone operator. She confessed in an interview here that she had never seen a switchboard in her life, "and, boy, was I scared."

It was when she was posted to a Whitley bomber squadron three months later that the Vancouver girl was made a radio telephonist.

"They decided that a woman's voice was better on the radio telephone," she said, explaining that it is her job to pass on to aircraft instructions from the squadron's operations room.

L.A.C. Combe tells bomber pilots when to take off or land and, among other things, listens for SOS calls from station machines in distress after raids over Germany or occupied territory.

Mrs. Davidson stressed the importance of the individual and his attitude to himself and life in making a democratic community.

The appreciation of the audience was expressed to Mrs. Davidson by Mrs. John Baxter. Dr. Olga Jardine, president of the board of directors, introduced the speaker.

Lady Nanton's Works Praised by Buchman

WINNIPEG.—The following tribute to the late Lady Nanton has been received from Dr. Frank Buchman, founder of the Oxford Group:

"She lives. Her voice of sanity and dauntless vision from a prairie home brought to the nation's outposts the call to meet spiritual drought and morally rearm men and nations. She was a pioneer in bringing the old truths in a new way, so that a groping world might find that God has the answer for every man and statesman."

"She carried the nation on her heart and gave her heart and home for the nation, that Canada might be a united family."

Final arrangements have been made for the 23rd annual banquet in Spencer's dining-room Jan. 30, and following dance at the Crystal Garden, lower ballroom. Next meeting will be held Tuesday in the hall. Rev. Biddle closed the evening with prayer.

Aids Bombed Families

Mrs. A. G. MacDonald inspects 10th crate containing 25th lot of clothing sent overseas.

"You have taught us in Hampshire the meaning of the British Empire, and the loving relationship which binds us, and always our people here will think of you all with gratitude," writes Miss Katharine Stapleton of the Families' Association at Yateley Hill, Hampshire, to Mrs. A. G. MacDonald, Overseas League representative in Victoria, in acknowledging shipment of clothing sent from here last year by Mrs. MacDonald.

"Victoria has again and again come to our aid with unstinting generosity, and to those who receive your gifts in Hampshire, Victoria and Canada are familiar names. In fact when the recipients of gifts from abroad ask me to send their thanks to those to whom they are indebted, they do not say 'Thank the friends in the British Empire,' or 'Thank the good people in Canada or Victoria who never forget us.'"

PRESSING NEED
The pressing need in England of such donations of clothing is shown in some of the succeeding paragraphs of Miss Stapleton's letter.

"It is distressing to see many children who formerly looked prosperous—a well-dressed, trudging to school with their gas-masks on their backs, but poorly clad and thin, cold, and wretched looking. For them there is no fund this Christmas, no extra food, and few presents.

"Most of the clothing we received was immediately forwarded to Portsmouth, hoping there would be no delay on the journey, and that the garments would be distributed by Christmas day and help to brighten many a drab Christmas—many a sad one, too, I regret."

"Our only extra fare at Christmas was a plain plum pudding and a tin of biscuits we had kept a year. No extra rations were allowed. Visitors bring their rations, and even if they come only for a meal often bring a little food as a present. Owing to petrol restrictions we seldom see any friends except our near neighbors. All of us are very busy, doing any work we can manage. It is good to think that we are past the shortest day of the year, but we must still black-out soon after five o'clock till about 8.30 a.m. And now you are nearer the war too, and know what blackout and other inconveniences mean. May 1942 be a happier year for us all."

Mrs. MacDonald personally receives the donations, but ships them overseas through the Overseas League. Since Christmas, in addition to two shipments of clothing, there has been sent by the Overseas League $221. From the tobacco fund alone 20,000 cigarettes were distributed to troops in Britain.

F.D.R. TO TALK ON WAR FEB. 22

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt expects to tell the United States in a broadcast about the progress of the war effort around Feb. 22 and the White House said today that by that time "it is quite possible he will have things of importance to say."

Presidential Secretary Stephen Early disclosed Mr. Roosevelt's intention to speak about the time of George Washington's birthday. He said the White House had been receiving, by mail, telegram and orally, many requests that the President make another fireside chat to the country "to dissipate poisonous and troublesome rumors and in so far as possible to give the country a clearer and better understanding of the war and all it involves."

Veal Stew Recipe For a Party

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX

Use this recipe for your extra special parties.

La Blaquette de Veau (White Veal Stew)
(Serves 6 to 8)

Two-and-one-half pounds veal from leg or rib, cut into large squares, 1 quart cold water, 1 large onion stuck with cloves, 1/2 cup chopped carrots, mixed herbs to taste, 1/2 cup finely cut celery, 1/2 tablespoon salt.

Sauce—Four and one-half tablespoons butter, 4 tablespoons flour, 1 1/2 cups veal stock, mushroom peelings, 2 egg yolks, 6 tablespoons cream, 1 lemon, juice only, 1 teaspoon chopped parsley.

Garnish—Eight mushrooms of even size, 12 pickling onions, 2 tablespoons butter.

Place veal squares in large saucepan. Cover with water. Add salt and slowly bring to boil. Skim carefully. Keep skimming until scum ceases to gather. Then add vegetables and herbs. Bring to boil. Cover, leaving small opening.

Simmer gently for 1 hour until meat is tender but still firm. In the meantime, cook mushrooms in a little water quickly. Simmer onions in hot butter but do not brown. Keep mushrooms and onions warm.

To make sauce: Melt butter in saucepan and slowly stir in flour. Cook a few minutes but do not brown. This sauce must be white. Slowly stir in strained veal stock. Bring to boil, then add peelings from the mushrooms and pepper. Skim carefully. Beat eggs and lemon juice together in large bowl. Add a few tablespoons of cold veal stock and a few tablespoons of white sauce. Continue slowly until all white sauce has been added. Add cream.

Use a clean saucepan. Place the cooked veal squares in the pan, then add the white sauce (strained carefully), the mushrooms, and cook until heated through. But do not boil. Using a hot platter, place the pieces of veal in the centre. Pour sauce over them and garnish with pieces of mushroom and onion. Sprinkle with chopped parsley. That is a magnificent dish and costs comparatively little for such a regal party surprise.

TOMORROW'S MENU

Breakfast: Melon, scrambled eggs, raisin toast, coffee, milk. Luncheon: Baked bean salad, sliced tomato garnish, toasted brown bread, stewed prunes, cookies, tea, milk.

Dinner: Fresh fruit cup, white veal stew, steamed brown rice, green peas with mint, green corn, watercress salad, blueberry roll, hard sauce, coffee, milk.

Salaries are the largest item on the police estimates. They are estimated at $104,185. Next comes clothing, estimated to cost $4,300. The rest of the appropriation is estimated as follows: Insurance $1,100, telephones $850, contingent salaries $85, inquests $1,000, keep of prisoners $3,500, interpreter's fees $75, fuel and light $2,000, motor patrols $2,800, new automobile $800, new motorcycle $825, motorcycle upkeep $950, secret service work $50, furniture $75, transportation of prisoners $125, printing $400, witness fees $50, building maintenance $300 and new traffic signal $600.

New Moderator Comes Next Week

Dr. Aubrey S. Tuttle, recently selected as Moderator of the United Church of Canada Feb. 5, will visit Victoria for the first time since his elevation to this important office.

The United Church community here are preparing to welcome him with due honor. At midday

DR. A. S. TUTTLE

Feb. 5 he will address a luncheon meeting at Spencer's of the Presbytery of Victoria and laymen of the United Church of Canada. In the evening that day he will address an open public meeting in First United Church under the auspices of the Presbytery of Victoria, when massed choirs of all the United Churches in the city will take part. No details of Dr. Tuttle's program for the succeeding two days have been announced, but he will preach in the Metropolitan United Church Feb. 8.

Dr. Tuttle was born in Pughwash, N.S., entered the ministry in 1897 as a student missionary in the former Methodist Church, served for three years in Bridgeport, New Harbor and Truro, and in 1905 graduated from Mount Allison University in Arts and Theology. Two years later he obtained his Master's of Arts degree, from the university, with first-class honors in philosophy.

IN EDMONTON

Transferring to the Alberta conference, he was pastor of Grace Church, Edmonton, for four years, and later served in three other pastorates, Wesley Church, Calgary, Fifth Avenue Church, Medicine Hat, and McDougall Church, Edmonton.

In 1919 he was appointed principal of Alberta College South, which, at the time of union, was amalgamated with Robertson Presbyterian College as St. Stephen's College.

Since union he has been principal and professor of Christian Theology and Philosophy of Religion at St. Stephen's College. In 1918 he became president of the former Alberta Methodist conference, and in 1934 of the Alberta Conference of the United Church. Mount Allison University in 1920 accorded him the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity, and the University of Alberta in 1936 conferred the degree of Doctor of Laws.

Huron and Erie's Excellent Report

An excellent report is again presented by the directors of Huron & Erie Mortgage Corporation.

The net profits for the year were $295,973, and to this was added the previous year's balance of undivided profits amounting to $153,958, making available for distribution $449,931. Out of this sum, dividends of $200,000 were paid; taxes accounted for $48,127 and $4,500 was subscribed to war charities. After caring for these disbursements a balance of $197,303 is carried forward as undivided profits, this sum being $43,345 higher than at the close of 1940.

In reviewing the corporation's assets, it is observed that cash on hand and on deposit, together with holdings of bonds of Canada and the provinces, exceed $5,600,000, forming a strong liquid position equal to 57% of savings deposits. One year ago the ratio was 54%. Real estate held for sale was reduced by more than $20,000 and the amount invested in mortgages and agreements for sale, after deducting the ample reserves for possible losses, stands at $30,860,000.

Investments by the public in Huron & Erie debentures issued in Canada amount to $24,468,000—an increase of $60,000 during 1941. Savings deposits were well maintained at $9,841,000 despite the heavy withdrawals made during the year by owners of Huron & Erie deposit accounts for investment in War Savings Certicates and the Victory Bond issue.

Sterling debentures have been reduced by more than $1,000,000 due to the repayment in 1941 of all maturing debentures issued in sterling currency. In co-operation with the Foreign Exchange Control Board these funds were made available to residents of Great Britain. As a result, substantial aid was rendered to the war effort.

The paid-in capital and the reserve fund, together with the balance of $197,303 carried forward as undivided profits, provide surplus security of $6,697,303 for depositors and debenture owners. The 18th annual meeting of shareholders will be held at the corporation's head office in London, Ontario, Feb. 11.

If Japs Attack Alaska

By ELMORE PHILPOTT

Fate of British Columbia depends far more on what happens at Singapore than what happens at Ottawa or shouted by gangs in Quebec. If Singapore falls a Japanese attack on Alaska is much more than a possibility. The defence of Canada does not begin at the three-mile limit.

An attack on Alaska is well nigh a certainty because Japan knows—should Singapore fall—that Alaskan bases are the best jumping off bases then available for attacks by air on Japan. Moreover, only via Alaska could we send to Russian Siberia the help that Russia will certainly demand if she enters the war against Japan.

Let us consider what would happen in event of such attack. All our Canadian units out here are composed partly of full-fledged soldiers who have volunteered for service anywhere in the world and partly of conscripts who are now liable only for home service. Canada would be unable to send a single battalion containing such men to help stop the Japs unless she broke the pledge to those conscripts. But if she did not send them she would break her treaty of mutual defence with the United States.

Consider further what would happen if Commander Beard is right and the Japs attempt to land here on the shores of the Straits of Juan de Fuca. Canada could not send a battalion across the line to help our neighbors, because all such now contain home defence men. On the other hand draftees from every one of the United States could be shipped across to Canada to help defend us. The last word in absurdity is that Canadians who live in the U.S. are liable to military duty in the U.S. army—anywhere in the world. But Canadians who live in Canada are not.

ALL CANADIANS
Being no fortune teller, one does not know whether Canada will emerge from this crisis a nation united—or whether we will pay the penalty of being a house divided. But we do know this. There is little hope of coming through unless our leaders stop thinking in terms of division.

The most fantastic and fatal doctrine is that which assumes that one part of Canada has certain rights to special treatment not due to the rest of Canada. This does not refer to the French-Canadian rights to use of their own language, civil law, and religion, but to a far different assumption—that obligations to service are different for English-speaking people on the one hand and French-speaking people on the other.

Canada cannot and will not become a truly united nation until there is practical application of the principle that all Canadians have equal rights before the law and equal obligations under the law.

There is only one way a democracy can operate: indeed only one way whereby it can survive. That is that the majority rules.

In the arguments of those opposed to conscription for overseas service there is a significant revelation. They talk about willingness to fight in defence of Canada. They ignore the fact that there is only one place effectively to defend this country, and that is before the enemy reaches our shores.

Canada has not sent overseas a single soldier, sailor or airman to fight for England. Canada has not spent a dollar for the defence of the British Isles. Every man who fights against Hitler fights for Canada. Any government which sent a single soldier outside this country on any other basis would not deserve to be kept in power for a single day.

At this very moment the Indians, Australians and Britons, who are holding the southern tip of Malaya, and the Americans and Filipinos who are holding one bit of the Philippine Islands, are the real defenders of this Canada.

WAR WORKER

She knows that the Electric Range she is using now probably cannot be replaced so long as this war lasts. She knows that this range is a Valuable Possession these days . . . so she is making the most of it. She takes care of it—keeps it in perfect working order and makes sure that it is giving her the very best in cooking service. Here's how you can do the same . . .

Keep your range clean. Don't let stains burn or wear themselves into the shining enamel.

Do not set utensils, dishes, etc., on the enamel surface when using range since this hastens wear. Take care not to let foods boil over as this may harm the enamel. Be especially careful not to spill sugar or salt.

The type of utensil used for the electric range surface may be of any kind of material. We recommend that you select a utensil with a flat bottom to fit the unit, straight sides and a close-fitting cover.

Use the cooking heats as follows:

HIGH—For bringing foods to the boiling point, heating water or for fast frying.

MEDIUM—For frying and general cooking.

LOW—For simmering.

In general, reduce the heat as soon as cooking has started. Use the stored heat in the oven and surface burners as much as possible.

Do not leave the burners going full blast when you are not using them for cooking.

Plan meals to make full use of the oven.

Arrange the food in the oven to allow space on all sides. This gives an even circulation of heat.

It is not necessary to open the oven door during the cooking period. The automatic temperature control constantly maintains the heat.

'Keep 'em Driving' Riveters' Slogan

Ex-boxer Jack Patterson can drive 700 rivets a day.

What is the capacity of a shipyard riveter in a working day of eight hours?

Experienced riveters say that under favorable conditions they can drive 600 or even 700 rivets a day on piece work and it is admittedly being done right here.

Under the piecework system the men have an incentive to work faster and the shipyard managements are satisfied because it speeds up the construction program.

Working on the basis of a five-cent rivet on piecework a riveting gang, driving 600 rivets, earn $30 a day. But a riveting gang consists of three men and the boss riveter has to share the day's pay with his mates. The other two in the gang are classed as the holder and the heater. The heater is the man who heats the rivet in a coke burner while the other inserts the hot rivet in the reamed hole in the plate with tongs while the riveting-gun operator clinches it on the steel plates. Two other men, the one who reams the bolt holes and another who tosses the bolts to the "bolt-holder," are paid individually by the shipyard.

SPLIT EARNINGS
The skilled riveter, it is understood, gets about 40 per cent of the piecework wage, the balance being divided between the two helpers.

Under the day-labor system the three-man riveting crew is paid $20.50 for a day's work, divided among them proportionately. The nature of the work and the position in which the men have to operate has a lot to do with the number of rivets driven.

And everything must be ready, such as the rigging of the staging on which the gangs work, when the boys go after the 700 rivets a day. Teamwork is also most essential for speed and it is seen on every hand in the Victoria shipyards.

Of course, 600 and 700 rivets are not driven by the riveting gangs every day.

When a crew is working in close quarters, in a tank for instance, the number of rivets driven in a working day is reduced considerably.

In such cases a crew driving 150 rivets while moving about and working at difficult angles would be doing a harder day's work than a crew driving 500 rivets on the side of a ship. Then again, there are different sizes of rivets, $\frac{1}{4}$ inch, $\frac{1}{2}$ inch, $\frac{3}{4}$ inch, and so on, the larger rivets taking longer to drive home than the smaller.

There are as well a number of less-experienced men working as riveters. These are the men who work on the day scale, but while they are improving, it is stated, their wage is never less than the basic rate.

The piecework system is working satisfactorily in the Victoria yards, it is acknowledged by the managements. There is no dispute here.

In the Vancouver yards the piecework system was stopped by the union, according to news dispatches from the mainland city, but this is denied by the Boilermakers and Iron Shipbuilders' Union, to which the riveters are affiliated.

To iron out the matter, the union has suggested that a conference of Vancouver shipyard workers and operators be held to discuss all aspects of the piecework system.

Last Saturday, Austin C. Taylor, vice-president of Wartime Merchant Shipping Ltd., called on labor organizations to co-operate in speeding up shipbuilding in Vancouver yards.

Mr. Taylor said officials were of the opinion that piecework in riveting would speed up the shipbuilding program.

The Victoria shipyards, however, are in a somewhat different position.

Although they are old-established plants, new yards have had to be built and considerable time has been taken up in plant construction and organization.

Not only are the local managements satisfied with the piecework system but the riveters themselves like it.

It is an incentive for them to work harder and make more money.

Tribute to Heroism Of Late Air Leader
LONDON (CP)—The Daily Express paid tribute today to Wing Commander Mark H. Brown, Glenboro, Man., airman credited with downing a score of enemy planes, whose death in Libya was reported recently by Italian sources.

The newspaper called him a "great sweep leader" who had "the courage of the devil and the nerve of a monkey." Wing Commander Brown failed to return from an air operation in the Middle East and was officially listed missing, believed killed in action.

Annual Police Report

Court Cases, Accidents Show Increase in 1941

The annual report of Police Chief J. A. McLellan to the Police Commission Wednesday showed Victoria had 3,773 cases in Police Court during 1941, as compared with 3,578 during 1940. Money collected in fines and costs totaled $20,183.50 as against $16,165 in 1940.

During 1941 police arrested 466 persons and served 3,270 summonses, the report shows.

Infractions of city by-laws produced the greatest number, 2,473, cases in court. Charges under the Motor Vehicles Act came next with 454 cases in court. Other offences were as follows: Government Liquor Act, 178; dangerous driving, 103; disorderly houses, 41; Radio-Telegraph Act, 25; theft, 21; obtaining goods and money under false pretences, 20; vagrancy, 19; automobile theft, 18; Deserted Wives Maintenance Act, 17; assault, 15; possessing stolen property, 13; and intoxicated in control of automobiles, 11.

In general Police Court cases, 186 persons were sentenced to prison without option of fines, 5,337 were fined, and 128 charges were dismissed or withdrawn. Eight accused persons were transferred to Juvenile Court and bail was estimated in 29 cases. Suspended sentence was ordered in 28 cases.

Appearing in Police Court during 1941 were 71 Indians and 61 Chinese.

SIX PERSONS KILLED
Six persons were killed or fatally injured in traffic accidents during 1941, and 52 were seriously injured. The number slightly injured was 190. In all there were 699 reported accidents.

In 1940 there were 647 accidents in which four persons were killed, 43 seriously injured and 189 slightly injured.

Police patrol made 3,312 runs during 1941, rendered first aid to 375 persons and escorted 22 insane persons to Esplanade. Sixteen coroner's inquests were conducted.

During patrol duty police found 219 premises insecure and supervised 182 vacant premises. Of the 157 bicycles reported stolen, 107 were recovered.

Goods valued at $14,638 were stolen during 1941, the report of the detective department under Detective Inspector J. R. Rogers showed. Of the goods stolen $4,516 was recovered.

Of the $9,122.40 worth of property reported lost, $4,886 worth was recovered. There were 361 automobiles stolen. Goods and money totaling $1,325 was obtained by means of worthless cheques.

In all police attended to 13,321 reports, fingerprinted and photographed 101 offenders and located 86 missing persons.

A breakdown of by-law infractions is as follows: Parking over the hour limit 1,326, parking over two-hour limit 204, double parking 96, over property lines 27, parking in prohibited areas 70, night parking 362, on the wrong side of the street 25, in front of driveways 14; in front of fire hydrants 10.

There were also 60 cases of ignoring stop signs, 53 of ignoring traffic control signals, 28 of making "U" turns and 60 involving cyclists. For ignoring traffic control signals 18 pedestrians were fined.

Juvenile cases in court totaled 235 as compared with 66 during 1940. Of the 65 children involved in cases last year, 44 were residents of the city. The other 21 were residents of outside municipalities who entered the city to commit the offences.

MURDER
The murder of Tim Kee at 1615 Government Street, May 2, was the outstanding crime of the year. Two charges of manslaughter were laid in police court and committed for trial. One perjury case was tried.

Breakdown of cases under the Motor Vehicle Act is as follows: Speeding, 231; speeding in school zones, 60; passing standing street cars, 10; failing to have driver's licenses, 56; failing to make hand signals, 40, and driving without rear lights, 15.

Prosecutions under the Criminal Code were: 103 of dangerous driving, 5 of failing to return to scenes of accidents, 12 intoxicated in control of automobiles, and 3 of driving while disqualified.

"Robberies and breaking and entering do not show any appreciable increase," Chief McLellan said, "and fewer automobiles were stolen, but there is an increase in charges of obtaining money and goods by false pretences; also in the value of stolen property and the value of goods and cash obtained by worthless cheques."

He said he felt that in view of the difficult times, the crime situation in the city is satisfactory. Detective Inspector Rogers and his staff are to be commended for their good work, he said. Detective David Donaldson is doing very good work, the chief said, and his services are frequently requested by police of outside municipalities.

"Traffic on city streets has been very heavy," Chief McLellan said. "I would like to commend Inspector Caldwell and his officers for their hard work."

"Juvenile Officer Ben Acreman," he said, "is doing excellent work, assisted by Policewoman Alice K. Pye and members of the detective department."

The chief highly commended Sgt. A. H. Bishop, who in connection with A.R.P. work, delivered a number of lectures to wardens.

HAROLD BOURNE has been installed as president of the Victoria Kinsmen Club. He succeeds Harold Winterburn.

SIXTY-ONE POINTS in five games for an average of 12.2 points per contest. That's the smart record of George (Porky) Andrews, former star of the Dominos basketball club, with the University of Oregon Web-foot in the northern division of the Pacific Coast Conference. Andrews, captain of his varsity squad, has been scoring points at a terrific pace and right now is up there with the leaders.

In the five games Porky has dropped through 21 field baskets and scored 19 of 29 attempts from the free throw line. He has only had eight personal fouls called on him. Andrews rests in a tie for fourth place in the conference scoring averages. Setting the pace is Marvin Gilbert of Washington State with 69 points for seven games, followed in order by Ray Turner, Idaho, with 68 for five games and Bishop of Washington state with 63 for seven. Beck of Oregon State is deadlocked with Andrews in the fourth slot.

It will be interesting to see how Andrews fares this week end when his Oregon club stacks up against the fast-moving University of Washington Huskies at Seattle. Washington tops the conference with a record of four wins and two losses with Oregon second with three and two. Washington and Oregon divided their recent series played at Eugene.

Name Cup Rugby Squad

After the final practice Wednesday night, Manager Bob McInnes named the Victoria team who will tackle Varsity Saturday at Macdonald Park, in the second game of year in defence of the McKechnie Cup.

The squad is a combination of speed, youth and experience, with only two players chosen who have not been in McKechnie Cup play before. They are Angus, fullback, and Gillespie, five-eighths, former Brentwood College boys.

Freddy Smith and Kenny Featherstone, two of the fastest men to step on a local rugby field, will hold down the wing spots.

Muir and Lloyd Williams, two former Vancouver stars, now at H.M.C.S. Royal Roads, complete the three-quarter line.

Buddy Lott, who got his baptism in rep play on Boxing Day, will start at scrum half. The forwards are known to every follower of rugby in this city. All are McKechnie Cup veterans and all are young, heavy and fast. Average weight, per man, in the scrum is 190 pounds.

The lads are Bob Muir, Doug Bray, hook, Buss Anderson, Frank Doherty, Dan Dowell, Bert Simpson, Ned Sparks and Bill Gornall.

The game will get under way at 2:30 and it looks like Varsity Thunderbirds will have to uncork a lot of rugby to get past that line-up, which, McInnes says, is one of the strongest he has ever had.

FIVEPIN-TOURNEY FEB. 14 AND 21

LONDON (CP)—John Soame Austin, 80, racehorse owner who used to name his horses in alphabetical order—All beginning with "A" one year, "B" the next and so on through the alphabet—has died. An authority on racing rules, he at one time was senior steward at Yarmouth meetings.

Star of the last test match series with Australia, Hutton fractured his arm last spring and had to have it rebroken several months later. Hutton is an army physical training instructor.

U.S. Racing Has Major Problems

NEW YORK (AP)—The folks in racing, especially California's horsey set, are finding out that Sherman wasn't kidding when he said what he said about war.

It's not that the conflict figures to wipe out the sport of kings—and two-buck betters—because they'll be running at all eastern and mid-western tracks, come spring and summer. The emergency will have to be pretty desperate to knock some $21,000,000 off state government revenue, and that's what racing kicked in last year.

But as time goes along, equipment, particularly the steel and aluminum for bridges and racing plates, is going to run short; food is going to be none too plentiful after the army's thousands of gallopers are tied, and many leading turf fiddlers feel the war situation may develop to such an extent that some meetings may have to be curtailed.

This information doesn't worry California's racing officials—at least no more than they are at present. The first job the war did on United States sports was to wipe out the winter campaigns on the coast.

MAY SPREAD
Just what chance such a situation has of spreading to other sections is problematical, although Herbert Bayard Swope, New York's racing commission chairman, says "there's always the possibility something may happen."

Trainer Patty Anderson figures they'll be using leather instead of steel for bits, but he and other handlers like Bob Robertson and George Odom figure most big stables have enough equipment stored up to last for some time. The little fellows—or "gyp" horsemen—will suffer.

Bill Terry Still Giants' Top Man

NEW YORK (AP)—For some reason there continues to exist a semi-secret about who is running the New York Giants. To clear up the confusion, therefore, it may be well to state the man is William (The Terrible) Terry.

In December Terry moved out of the management and into the front office of the Giants. First it was announced he would be general manager and then this title was modified to general manager of the farm system. But Terry is much more than that.

He arrived in town Wednesday for conferences with president Horace Stoneham and manager Mel Ott and held a huddle with his old friends, the New York baseball writers. Someone asked him he expected to stay at the Giants' training camp.

"Well, till after all the players are signed, I guess," he replied.

MAN OF ALL WORK
Asked if signing the Giants' players were a part of Terry's task, he answered: "Use your own judgment."

This led right smack into the question of what were Terry's duties and the inevitable sign-off: "I don't know what I'm going to have to do. I'm just a man of all work around the office."

He disclosed, however, that he negotiated the deal for first baseman Johnny Mize of the St. Louis Cardinals and talked to Mize recently by phone and ordered him to Hot Springs, Ark., to throw off some weight.

Ott was present during the interview, sitting quietly on the fringe of the group of reporters even though Terry tried several times to shift questions over to him with a "there's the manner, he knows all about it" suggestion.

Major Hockey

Canadiens on Spot

Voluminous reports of relations between the Canadian armed forces and Messrs. Dumart, Schmidt and Bauer of Boston Bruins have combined with other matters in the National Hockey League to obscure momentarily one of the more important phases of the season: the runaway Brooklyn Americans have made of their annual battle with Montreal Canadiens for sixth place.

They've led the Canucks by two to five points for several weeks now and unless the Montrealers make a late spur for sixth place and the league's last playoff spot Americans will make the first round (at least) of the Stanley Cup play-offs.

Brooklyn holds a three-point edge on Canadiens although Canadiens and Americans have three wins each and 13 goals each in six games this season.

Both have tough assignments tonight, with Canucks traveling to Toronto for a joust with the third-place Maple Leafs while Americans take on the leading Boston Bruins in New York. Chicago travels to Detroit for the other game.

KRAUTS IN MONTREAL
MONTREAL (CP)—Boston Bruins' famous kraut line—Bobby Bauer, Milt Schmidt and Porky Dumart—arrived here by plane Wednesday night all set to report to the Royal Canadian Air Force recruiting station.

Milt Schmidt, who acted as spokesman for the trio said the three were "all through for the time being" with hockey. "We put in our applications to the recruiting centre of the R.C.A.F. when we were here last Saturday," he said. "We don't know what we're going to do or what we're going to do."

"All we know is that we're hoping to get into the air force. If they'll have us, we'll do what they want us to do and that's all there is to it."

Asked if they planned to visit their homes in Kitchener, Ont., Schmidt said, "we don't know what we're going to do or what we're going to do."

Nanaimo Clippers Coming

Show New Players

Strengthened by several new players, Nanaimo Clippers will make another appearance at the Willows Arena Friday night to engage Victoria Bapcos in a Pacific Coast Amateur Hockey League game. Starting time is 8:30, and from the advance sale of tickets the clubs will battle before another packed house.

Making their first appearance here with the Clippers will be goalie Keith Langill, formerly with Calgary Stampede, and forwards Jimmy Kilburn and Toad Klein. Kilburn was secured from Trail as a military replacement for Jimmy Miles, while Klein has just recovered from a serious leg injury suffered at the start of the season.

Bill Phillips, veteran manager of the Clippers has benched himself and will devote his time to handling the club. Other players coming with the Clippers will include: Hoppy Hopkins, Fergie McPherson, Nick Smith, Doug Martinson, Red Carr, Jimmy Neilson, Don Stanley and Jackie Mann.

Army Ice Team In Decisive Win

Army hockey team traveled to Vancouver for a return game Wednesday with the Rocky Mountain Rangers and gained sweet revenge for the setback suffered here two weeks ago, by smothering the mainland unit under a 14 to 2 score.

Les Wilson was the scoring star for the Army outfit with six goals. Bus Algar was second high man with three, while Elmer Kreller, Bailey, Hemming, Younger-Lewis and Mayo each contributed one. Janet and Passmore were the scorers for the Rangers.

On Monday night the Army will engage in another game with the Royal Canadian Navy team. The last time these clubs met the Navy registered a 3 to 2 triumph which has been disputed by the Army ever since. In a second game the Royal Canadian Air Force will oppose an army team from Camp Nanaimo.

First game will start at 8.

Red Deer Wins Game With Trail

RED DEER, Alta. (CP)—The cellar-dwelling Red Deer Buffaloes held Trail Smoke Eaters, scoreless in the third period while they slammed in three goals to break a 1 to 1 deadlock and chalk up a 4 to 1 victory in an A.B.C. Senior Hockey League game here tonight. About 800 fans watched the contest.

Playing one of their best games of the season, Buffaloes set up a stout defence in front of Goalie Dewie Pow, who once again turned in a brilliant performance. Al Newsome, Dick Milford, Sid Sturk and Bello scored for Red Deer. Maurice Duffy got the lone Trail goal. It was Trail's first loss in their current six game road trip through Alberta.

Two Other Set Classes For Dog Show

SEATTLE (CP)—British Columbia's contingent to the Pacific Northwest Golden Gloves Tournament headed for home today with four of the titles and one of the most impressive records any Canadian squad has yet left in the tourney, preliminary to the Pacific Coast championships and a shot at the national diamond belt titles.

The Canadians split their share of the titles evenly with two to Victoria fighters and two to Vancouver belters.

Gordon Grayson from the Royal Canadian Navy at Esquimalt, who one time dabbled among the professionals, won the heavyweight title by a slim decision from George Perkins of Tacoma while Bob Hickie, another R.C.N. scrapper from the Victoria naval base, showed plenty of stamina and punch to win the lightweight title.

Hickie won with a swollen right hand which he hurt in Tuesday's opening rounds and possibly may have fractured.

The other two titles went to Jackie Turner of Vancouver, who found revenge in decisioning Joe Hipner of Seattle, last year's champion who turned back the Vancouver boy in the semifinal.

Turner went on to take a decision from Joe Antonietti, Butte, Mont., in the final.

VARSITY BOY WINS
Tommy Symes, clever young University of British Columbia scrapper, won the featherweight crown in an all-Canadian final with a hairline decision over Gerard Ramsay of the R.C.N., Vancouver.

Two other British Columbians reached the finals and four others lost out in the semis.

Vern Byrd of Vancouver dropped the bantamweight final to Harold Newell of Portland in a wild swinging bee and Brian Brady of the R.C.N. Victoria, lost on a third-round technical knock-out to Tommy Moyer of Portland in the welter final.

Norm Dawson of Vancouver lost on a first-round technical knock-out to Bernie Reynolds of Bellingham in the middleweight semifinal. Reynolds went on to win the championship.

Allan Dunn, pre-tourney favorite, lost in an outstanding upset of the night when he dropped a three-round decision to George Perkins of Tacoma, later decided by Grayson in the heavyweight final.

Tom Rayson of Vancouver lost a decision to Walter Sabbe of Portland in the middleweight semi, and Eric Smith, also Vancouver, lost on a technical knock-out to Jerome Kuehn of Everett in the light heavyweight semifinal.

Oil Vote Cut Mistake, Pattullo

T. D. Pattullo, Liberal, Prince Rupert, in the Legislature Wednesday night deplored the cut in the vote for Peace River oil drill.

He said that because "of the reactionary government" you'll see the oil companies in there within a year.

Search for oil in the Peace, he said, was a pet hobby of his when he was premier.

"Now I don't think the present government even intends to complete the present hole," he said. When he said the oil companies would be there in a year, he turned to Premier Hart and asked, "Isn't that right?"

Premier Hart didn't reply. "Silence means consent," said Mr. Pattullo as he continued his speech.

The Peace, Mr. Pattullo said, is a possible oil field, most favorably considered by geologists. To the government he said: "You'll make millions and millions out of this for the province—millions and millions you otherwise wouldn't make—now, with the vote cut $100,000, do you wonder I feel very unhappy this work is going to the dogs."

GP YUKON NOW

Defending his plan to annex the Yukon, the former premier said, "... this territory hasn't been one third prospected—after the war there will be tremendous developments in Alaska—annexing the Yukon will be to the advantage both the Yukon and British Columbia—now is the time to round out this great program—if you wait until these territories are fully developed, you'll never get them."

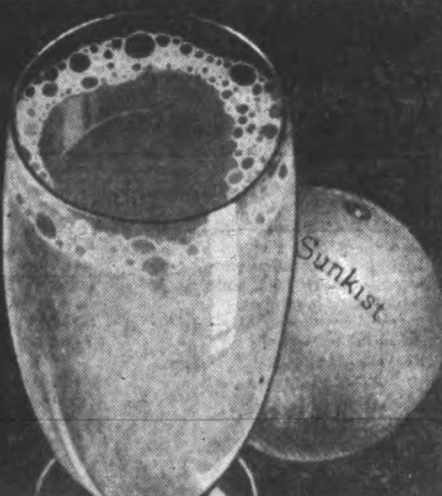

Mr. Pattullo once more came out flatly for conscription of manpower. He urged everyone vote in favor of the forthcoming plebiscite.

Of conscription in the last war, Mr. Pattullo said "it was a piece of skulduggery to put dear old Sir Wilfrid Laurier out of the political arena."

He said he believed the plebs.

cite would pass overwhelmingly, even in the province of Quebec. "But the people of the rest of Canada must see that they vote overwhelmingly in favor of conscription and see that we carry on this way to our fullest extent," Mr. Pattullo said.

Mr. Pattullo said plans must be made now for future settlement of British Columbia.

"If we don't use this territory we will sooner or later lose it," he said. "We should get people here—we've got to have more people in this country so our resources can be fully developed."

Work Conditions Endanger Health

The health of the working women of British Columbia is being seriously endangered by the conditions under which they work, Mrs. Laura Jamieson, C.C.F., Vancouver Centre, said in the Legislature, Wednesday.

Nearly 20,000 worked for $14 a week or less, she said, adding pay cheques were subject to deductions. Some worked in 100 Vancouver stores devoid of heat, and were afraid to complain through fear of losing their jobs. They neglected colds and paved the way for serious illness through unwillingness to lose working time, she said.

She noted 200,000 women were to replace men in war industries. "At what wages?" she asked, forecasting an increase in Canadian business profits of $40,000,000 through exploitation of female labor.

In many cases in Vancouver, particularly in canning plants, women worked overtime without compensation, she declared.

That drew a remark from Minister of Labor George Foss that if the Labor Department were notified such conditions would be corrected.

Before speaking for the women, Mrs. Jamieson continued her advocacy of improvements in handling juvenile delinquency. She sought implementation of the 1936 committee on juvenile delinquency report calling for establishment of one senior juvenile court judge for B.C., with associates to assist him; improvement of the parole officer question to provide officers with greater social service experience, and shifting of the Boys' Industrial School from Coquitlam to a more suitable and better-equipped centre.

Ex-Premier Pattullo had another say in the Legislature Wednesday night and the gallery and the Opposition enjoyed it thoroughly. The coalitionists didn't. Mr. Pattullo two or three times referred to "the Tory wing in this reactionary government."

Hon. Herbert Anscomb, Oak Bay's Conservative, seemed to think Mr. Pattullo was talking about him. He and the former Premier had one or two minor tangles.

Premier John Hart just wouldn't fight with his predecessor in office. He ignored all the bait Mr. Pattullo cast. Once Mr. Pattullo said something that should have annoyed Mr. Hart. It would have annoyed most men. Mr. Hart just laughed. "He laughs best who laughs last," quoted the ex-premier, glaring at Mr. Hart. Still Mr. Hart didn't bite.

Mr. Pattullo mildly resumed his old feud with the press. He referred to a sort of highway commission which is being formed in B.C. Premier Hart asked him how he knew that. Why, said Mr. Pattullo, he read about it in the press—"your old friends the press." Then he added "they may be wrong—they usually are."

Someone said, Mr. Pattullo reported, that he knew no more about the budget than the Opposition. That, he said, was the unkindest cut of all.

When he had referred several times to "this administration which in time will become more and more reactionary," Premier Hart finally said "nonsense."

Mr. Pattullo mildly chastized the C.C.F. Of Opposition speeches he said "really, to me, they were all very wearisome."

He said never would the C.C.F. be able to put into force all that they advocate in the House.

Thus, having disagreed with the coalitionists and the C.C.F., Mr. Pattullo stood alone, except for his friend Tom Uphill.

Mr. Uphill walked into the House wearing a hat, which is perfectly proper, according to the rules of the British House of Commons, which is dauntless. New members, however, didn't know about the rule and shouted "order." Mr. Uphill continued to wear his hat until he rose to speak.

Arthur Turner, C.C.F., Vancouver East, told Premier Hart he had a worried, but kindly face. The Premier looked surprised at this close scrutiny and grinned good-naturedly.

Mr. Turner couldn't help a little "I told you so" in his maiden speech. Appealing for government-sponsored industry for the good of the people, he said "witness the hand of the people of B.C. in doubling the size of this group" (the C.C.F.).

Mrs. Hodges did a little gloating, too. She said that since she made a speech earlier in the session advocating more money for the aged, the finance minister had given pensioners $5 more a month. She would never be satisfied, however, she said, until the pension was $30 a month, starting at age 65. In fact, she said, she would like to see the age limit 60, as she was getting along that way herself.

Mrs. Hodges referred to her innocence in the ways of the House. At first she said her "girlish innocence." Then she explained she had better change that to her "matronly innocence."

Colin Cameron's speech was so gloomy, Mrs. Hodges said, that she looked over the legislative chamber's portal to see if there was the inscription "abandon hope—". Mrs. Hodges, as a matter of fact, referred to Mr. Cameron's "diatribe."

Frank Putnam is a big, raw-boned farmer, with a kindly smile and a heart of gold. Everybody likes him. Wednesday he gave the C.C.F. some fatherly advice, and the C.C.F. loved it. "Don't be in too big a hurry to put your ideas into action," he said, adding that if he couldn't see the smiling faces of the C.C.F. he wouldn't know what to think of their utterances. He warned them, that if they are on as they are at present, they will build up class hatred in British Columbia.

Mr. Putnam said he is a socialist himself—or at least he has socialist tendencies, and the C.C.F. thumped their desks in approval. He said he believes in C.C.F. policies—up to a point.

Then, in a moment of great frankness, he said "I must admit their speeches go right over my head."

Herbert Gargrave said the Minister of Agriculture (Hon. K. C. MacDonald) is more afraid of pulling up stumps than milking cows.

Mr. Gargrave is pleased with the title bestowed on him by the Minister of Education, Harry

Turner Wants New Industry

Arthur Turner, C.C.F., Vancouver East, in his maiden speech in the Legislature Wednesday, advocated establishment of glass, chinaware and pottery industries in British Columbia.

These, he said, would tie in with rehabilitation of soldiers and post-war planning.

There is sufficient silica sand in the province for a glass industry, he said.

W. J. Asselstine, Liberal, Atlin, said suitable heat is lacking for a glass industry.

Regarding chinaware and pottery, Mr. Turner said there is suitable clay in the province for this purpose.

The government should start these industries, he said, and not wait to hand them over to private enterprise.

"The more one delves into the story of the potential wealth of B.C. the more one should be ashamed to admit that public men in the past have allowed this province to be used as a bag of jewels, into which private interests could dip at will, or leave alone, as it suited their interests," Mr. Turner said. "We in this section of the House (the C.C.F.) are not willing to wait for private capital to use this province as a convenience."

"We are in favor of publicly-owned projects, industries belonging to the people of this province, which would not be a tax burden but a revenue-producing investment. We cannot live on our capital indefinitely, as we have been doing in the case of timber. Alternative revenue producers must be found."

Mr. Turner said governments in the past have been very benevolent to private capital and private vested interests, but the time has come when governments must take a much broader view of economic matters.

"Progressive opinions are becoming more and more widely accepted," he said. "If there is to be any benevolence, then it must be to the people as a whole and not to a small minority. If the workers are to be encouraged to do their best they must be assured that preparations are being made for peacetime abundance."

He read Victoria and Vancouver newspapers showing A.R.P. workers "fed up" with lack of organization and called for overhaul. It would be too late for reorganization after a raid, he said.

He had been able to find only $23,800 in the budget for civilian protection, he said, contrasting it with the $6,000,000 voted in California and the $1,000,000 by Seattle for A.R.P. work.

FUNDS LISTED
Premier Hart stated $50,000 allocated for A.R.P. work would be spent this year. The $23,800 noted by Mr. Gargrave was in the estimates for the fiscal year starting in March.

Dealing with social reforms proposed by Liberal speakers, he suggested members of the government showed some insincerity inasmuch as no funds were available in the budget to carry on the reforms.

Such funds could be secured only through public ownership of industries, he said, suggesting the government could enter the brewing field and pay plant purchase costs from the annual profit on beer. Private brewers could be compensated in the same way private power distribution was treated when the province entered the distribution field.

Answering Minister of Education Perry's charge C.C.F. statements might lower the morale of the fighting men, Mr. Gargrave declared the morale would fall if the troops felt none at home were protecting their interests.

He mentioned specifically flax, which will grow well in the Fraser Valley, he said.

"We could use a good many thousand acres in flax," Mr. Putnam said, "and we could get men willing to invest in plants for manufacture of flax products, if we could get the farmers to grow it."

He advocated also a soy bean-growing program. Prior to the Pacific war B.C. imported 90 per cent of her soy beans from Japan, Mr. Putnam said.

He said the honey crop in B.C. should be three times larger than at present.

"You don't need a big ranch to produce honey," he said. "What we need in British Columbia today is a little agricultural planning."

Garden seeds could also be successfully grown, and sugar beets, Mr. Putnam said.

He advised the government to get the machinery going now for placing men on the land after the war is over. He urged that potential farm lands be cleared now.

"It is impossible to go on a stump ranch and make a living of any kind—I know, I've tried it," Mr. Putnam said.

There are more than 600 parts in modern propellers, whereas World War aircrafts comprised but five or six pieces.

Calls Esquimalt Houses Nightmares, Excrescences

Many people in Victoria are afraid the Esquimalt housing scheme will be repeated in this city, Mrs. Nancy Hodges, Liberal, Victoria, said in the Legislature Wednesday.

Mrs. Hodges termed the houses in Esquimalt "nightmares," "excrescences" and said many of her constituents in Victoria had written her asking that something be done to prevent similar homes being built in Victoria.

"To me these houses are potential shantytowns," Mrs. Hodges said, "and I believe they are going to be perpetuated in Victoria."

She said she agreed with Mrs. Dorothy Steeves, C.C.F., North Vancouver, who described the houses in her constituency as "hideous box-like little shacks."

The same description fitted the Esquimalt houses, Mrs. Hodges said.

"They are an absolute blot on what was originally a very beautiful situation," she said. They have tin chimneys, she said, although she understood the proposed Victoria houses would be spared in this regard.

Fit-Lt. E. V. Finland, Conservative, Esquimalt, asked Mrs. Hodges if she knew the housing scheme was being operated by the Dominion government.

Mrs. Hodges said she did, and that it was complaints from Victorians that forced her to bring up the matter.

Dealing with the C.C.F., Mrs. Hodges said she refused to be drawn into a somewhat clumsy attempt to introduce the elements of class warfare into the House.

"I refuse to be thus divorced from the people who sent me to this House," she said. "I am a working woman, proud to be one and proud to be here representing the big interests of the 6,000 people who sent me here—representing big interests, and I use the term advisedly, because to me the big interests which I represent are the well-being of the working people who elected me."

Mrs. Hodges told of gradual reform in Great Britain to prove her point that conditions were made better for the people there without revolution.

She referred to "... all those milestones on the path of British progress, those processes of evolution rather than revolution that have reached their apogee in the magnificent stand made by those people during the last few years."

Colin Cameron, C.C.F., Comox, asked Mrs. Hodges if she had heard of the means test and the dole in Britain.

Mrs. Hodges said those were the methods of trial and error by which Britain had reached her greatness. She was the last to deny that there had been many trials and errors, she said, but Britain has risen above them.

"No one realizes more clearly than I that there is need for readjustments in our social and economic system," Mrs. Hodges said. "That is what we on this side of the House are trying to effect in our small way. But while willing to support a reasonable social dynamic, we prefer to attach our hopes to the idea of social democratic evolution."

Flying Padre Tells of Service As Bombs Fell

Violation of that most sacred of religious ceremonies, Holy Communion by a mad scramble of communicants for open air, was just one of the experiences in Britain of a visitor to Victoria, Sqdn. Ldr. W. Ewart Cockram, former principal Protestant Chaplain to the R.C.A.F. overseas.

The air force padre, who has just been appointed Assistant Principal Protestant Chaplain to the R.C.A.F., and who is here in the course of a tour that will take him to every Air Command in Canada, had such an experience as described above more than once during the summer of 1940 when he was with Canada's first fighter squadron overseas under the famous Wing Commander Ernest McNab, D.F.C.

SABBATH DISREGARDED
The blitz during the Battle of Britain had no scruples regarding the Sabbath, and the padre said:

"I would be administering Holy Communion when the 'scramble' order would come for the squadron and there would be a mad rush. We would finish the service sometimes after the scrum."

Sqdn. Ldr. Cockram was with the first Canadian Squadron overseas in March, 1940, and subsequently went to the famous first fighter squadron with whom he stayed throughout the Battle of Britain.

Of his own work the padre would say little, but sang high praises of all ranks in the squadron.

"They not only had a marvelous leader in McNab," he stated, "but he was also backed to the limit by the second in command, Flight-Lieut. G. R. McGregor, D.F.C., now squadron leader, and by other officers in the squadron, including Sqdn. Ldr. Deane Nesbitt, D.F.C., Sqdn. Ldr. E. Reyno and Flight-Lieut. Eric Beardmore. The last named three are all now serving with the Western Air Command, and were stationed at Patricia Bay."

Speaking of the ground crew, the padre said:

"All the officers feel as I do, that they could never have done so well without the magnificent job of the men on the ground. They worked extremely long hours and took an intense pride in their work. When a pilot came back after downing an enemy aircraft, they burst their buttons, and they felt it deeply when we lost one of our men."

LAUDS STEVENSON

In Air Commodore L. F. Stevenson the Western Air Command has a fine leader, Sqdn. Ldr. Cockram stated. The commodore was in command of the R.C.A.F. in Britain, and his presence in any of the squadrons saw an immediate uplift in morale.

"He was a great guy," said the padre, "and no A.O.C. could have been more greatly respected, admired or loved by the men in his command."

His own job, he said, entailed the comfort of men at dispersal stations, tracing the sick and wounded throughout the various hospitals in Britain, recovering the bodies of those killed in action, and bringing them back for burial, as well as generally keeping morale up and administering religious services.

A flier himself, Sqdn. Ldr. Cockram served in the Royal Flying Corps as a fighter pilot during the first Great War, transferring from the Imperial Infantry in 1917, and was later taken into the R.A.F.

He took holy orders after the war, and later came to Canada to take the pulpit of Sherburn United Church, Toronto, of which he is still minister.

Concluding his visit here today, Sqdn. Ldr. Cockram will leave tonight, or Friday, via Vancouver, for eastern Canada.

Light Phenomenon Is Explained

Light is the raw material of vision, and makes possible our world of brightness, color, form and motion, said Gordon Shaw when he addressed the Royal Astronomical Society Wednesday night at the Victoria College. His topic was "Light, Lenses and Mirrors."

"Light is best described as energy in the form of vibrations," Mr. Shaw said, "and these vibrations travel in waves. These waves are not linear, but are transverse to the lines of propagation."

The properties of intensity and velocity were discussed, and it was shown how the speed of 186,000 miles per second as the speed of light was first determined by the Danish astronomer, Rømer. Reflection of light from plane and curved surfaces was shown by means of diagrams. Precise laws were applied in the demonstrations.

HELPS MANKIND

The speaker explained how the eye is used as a convex mirror in optical examinations by the ophthalmologist. Refraction of light through water and glass was also discussed. The index of refraction was given as 1.33, crown glass at 1.523, and diamond as 2.47. It was stated that the fact that a piece of curved glass will bend rays of light was a vulnerable factor in knowledge-gaining undertakings of mankind. Mention of microscopes was made in connection with this statement.

Toric form lenses for the correction of astigmatism were described, as well as the principal of the bifocal lens.

MOUNTING SHOWED

At the conclusion of the talk it was announced that members would have the opportunity to attend a special meeting at the Dominion Astronomical Observatory on February 7 to view the planets Venus, Mars, Jupiter, and Saturn.

A model of a telescope mounting was exhibited. The model, designed by H. Boyd Brydon, was to the standard for 12 amateur telescope builders in the organization.

Man, Given Lodging, Food, Steals Lamp

Joseph H. Lines, 922 Blanshard Street, meeting a young man on the street Tuesday night who said he was down and out, took him to a cafe and bought him a cup of coffee. The young man, Donald R. Evans, said he had no place to stay at night. Lines invited Evans to his home.

Early Wednesday morning, before his host was up, Evans crept out of bed, dressed, and, without thanking his host, left, taking a miner's lamp, the property of Lines.

Lines missed the lamp, got in touch with the police who found it had been sold to Jacob Aaronson, dealer, for $2. Evans was later arrested.

The story was told in city police court today by Detectives F. Woodburn and Percy Richards. Evans pleaded guilty to stealing the lamp. He was remanded until Friday for sentence.

A.R.P. Workers

Tell M.P.'s About Equipment Need

Victoria A.R.P. workers will carry their demand for equipment through the city's war board to city, provincial and federal members.

At a meeting Wednesday, attended by district wardens, executive members, representatives of permanent municipal sections, St. John Ambulance Brigade and St. John Ambulance Association members, Red Cross officials, the Women's Auxiliary Corps and the C.A.T.S., a resolution to that effect was carried.

All present were reported eager to assist both municipal, provincial and federal authorities in civilian protection work, but were insistent in their calls for equipment.

The resolution will be forwarded, following approval by the war board, to the three city provincial members, including Premier John Hart, R. W. Mayhew, M.P., and the Minister of Pensions and National Health.

TEXT

The text follows:

"It is the considered opinion of this meeting that the situation which has arisen in the Pacific during the past 10 weeks, and which may create a serious menace to Vancouver Island and the western Pacific coast generally, before enemy action is checked, must be the cause of grave concern to the people of British Columbia, and in fact the Dominion of Canada as a whole. The emergency demands immediate action, and the shipment of this coast of every type of equipment necessary for the use of A.R.P. wardens in their duties of safeguarding civilian life and property in these areas, and it must be further emphasized and brought home to responsible authorities that the continued withholding of necessary equipment is vital to the training of A.R.P. personnel will result inevitably in widespread deterioration of our A.R.P. organization in this area and which should be avoided at all costs."

"In the event of such immediate action not being taken, then the A.R.P. wardens of Victoria district are reluctantly compelled to inform the responsible governments—municipal, provincial and federal—that they cannot hold themselves responsible for the safeguarding of civilian life and property under their care, until the minimum of equipment is delivered to the wardens of Victoria district."

Bookies Menace, Says Maitland

Possibility the Legislature may do something about bookmaking and liquor is being forecast in political circles.

Government officials refuse to say anything definite, but it is understood the government has both matters under consideration. Asked about the rumor wires to bookmakers may be cut off, Attorney-General L. L. Maitland said today: "I think this is a menace that must be stamped out—all police should see that it is stamped out."

Asked if the government would reopen the liquor act this session the Attorney-General said it would not be necessary to do that to change any present liquor rules.

Shorter hours for liquor stores and, beer parlors or any other changes aiming at curtailment of liquor sales can be made by regulation and legislation is not necessary.

Uniformed Women Not Auxiliaries

'Quacks' and 'Quaffs' Rank as Regular Forces

Flutterings in the dovescoats of the Canadian Women's Army Corps and their friends, caused by a Canadian Press despatch to the effect that while the Canadian Women's Auxiliary Air Force is an integral part of the R.C.A.F., the C.W.A.C. is but an adjunct to the army, may be stilled. Later enquiries show the despatch was incorrect in most details.

The point to the despatch in question was that noncommissioned ranks of all three services, men and women, must salute officers of the C.W.A.A.F., while officers in the C.W.A.C. are entitled to no such mark of respect.

PROTEST TO M.P.

Objections to the ruling are summed up in a letter from the Canadian Legion at Courtenay, addressed to A. W. Neill, M.P. for Alberta, which reads, in part: "I am enclosing a clipping dated Jan. 13, from which it is inferred that Ottawa has created a very unfair situation with regard to the status of the Canadian Women's Army Corps."

"The matter of the salute is also utterly unfair. The salute is made to the King's commission and uniform. The C.W.A.C. commission and uniform should be equally respected by all ranks of the army and other services equally with that of other women's units."

"I should like to see this question taken up and the present discrimination removed, as I feel it is a serious deterrent to recruiting and grossly unfair to those now serving with the C.W.A.C."

The Canadian Press despatch stated:

"Men of the armed forces are not required to salute members of the C.W.A.C. but may give courtesy salutes if they desire. Members of the C.W.A.C. may return courtesy salutes."

The facts are that both C.W.A.C. and C.W.A.F. are integral parts of their parent services; officers in both hold the King's Commission and by the letter of the law are entitled to salutes from every noncommissioned officer and man in the navy, the army or the air force.

MATTER OF MANNERS

What actually happens is that about two-thirds of the men in the Army at Work Point salute C.W.A.C. officers, approximately the same proportion who give the courtesy salute to nursing sisters, for which there is no compulsion, and the same proportion who in civil life would remove their hats in the presence of a lady or observe the other niceties.

For their part, noncommissioned C.W.A.C.s have specific orders on saluting, providing among other things that they salute their own officers and officers in the Army by whom they are being inspected or under whom they work.

Officers of both the C.W.A.C. and the Army stationed at Work Point say there is little heart-burning over the question.

With no unit of the C.W.A.F. in the Victoria district so far, the problem has not arisen in the air force. Regulations will be issued before the ladies arrive, an officer of the Western Air Command headquarters states.

Everett Taylor, 50, president of the Victoria Gyro Club in 1938, former outstanding city athlete, and energetic worker for the Victoria arena, when the skating rink move was revived a few years ago, died in St. Joseph's Hospital at 6 today.

He was the second fatal victim of spinal meningitis in the last two weeks. A third case was under treatment at the Jubilee Hospital today. Condition of the

During World War No. 1 he served overseas with the Canadian Expeditionary Force.

ESKIMOS ARE NATURAL ACTORS

Eskimos are the greatest natural actors in the world, and are able to perform with complete lack of self-consciousness with seldom more than one rehearsal, according to Michael Powell, celebrated English motion picture director who journeyed to Baffinland to obtain scenes for the British-Canadian film "49th Parallel," now being released by Columbia. It opens at Capitol Theatre Monday.

Eskimos figure prominently in the film which recounts the adventure of six Nazi sailors whose submarine is sunk by Royal Canadian Air Force planes but who escape ashore to try to make their way across Canada to the Pacific Coast and a Jap ship.

Thought Attack Just Practice

When Japan bombed Pearl Harbor Dec. 7, a large number of Hawaiian Island citizens thought the display a realistic continuation of U.S. war games. Some received their first explanation of the attack through shortwave radio from London.

Those facts are disclosed in a letter received here by Mrs. Margaret Salt from friends in Lankai, Oahu.

"The sea was aquamarine in color, the breeze soft and balmy and the sweeping view of Mokuia Island was as thrilling as ever," the letter said. "Great billowy clouds floated lazily by, just as though they knew it was a lazy Sunday morning too."

Residents heard planes droning high overhead, ignored them and went about their Sunday morning occupations. When a neighbor informed them the islands were being attacked they were disinclined to believe him.

Switching on their radio, they drew a blank for some time. "We heard a blast from Bellows Field, an army air field adjoining our property, but that was nothing new. Construction work was going on there from time to time. We went outdoors, hearing some more plane motors and looked up to see three planes in V-formation flying very low—300 to 500 feet—directly over our house. These planes had orange circles on the underside of each wing—the Rising Sun. The radio in the living-room started blaring forth and we ran back in the house. The announcer said 'Citizens—stay home—do not use your telephone and do not go over the highways. Keep calm. This is the order of General Short and officers will be punished. Do not use your telephone and keep off the highways. Keep your radio turned on for further announcements. That is all'."

"We went outdoors again and looked around, seeing nothing but a smoke cloud towards Kaneohe where we learned later an airplane had just been blown up by the companions of the three planes which flew over our house a few minutes before."

"Even then we were all convinced it was just a practice." Close to the scene themselves, they learned over short wave from London that Oahu was being attacked by air by the Japanese, hangars, planes, battle-ships had been destroyed with loss of life to civilians and army and navy personnel.

Thus Americans in Hawaii learned war had come to them.

22 YEARS TO GET BACK ABOARD SUB

Twenty-two years to get back aboard a submarine. That is the story of Yarey Blagay, who was commander of a Russian submarine, "The Whale," in the Baltic during the World War. Fifty-two men were under his command.

Blagay left Russia when the revolution broke out. He made his way to Shanghai, to San Francisco, thence to Hollywood. Now, he plays a member of the U-boat crew in "Thunder Afloat," starring Wallace Beery and Virginia Grey. The new picture opens at the York Theatre today.

Amid the crashes, explosions and comedy which Olsen and Johnson have incorporated into their film version of "Hellzapoppin," now showing at the Plaza Theatre, music holds its own. Don Raye and Gene de Paul wrote eight tunes for the production. Martha Raye sings an old favorite, "Waiting for the Robert E. Lee."

ATLAS THEATRE

The long-heralded debut of Rise Stevens as Hollywood's newest singing star becomes a reality on the screen with the opening of "The Chocolate Soldier," now at the Capitol Theatre.

Coming directly to films from the opera and concert fields, Miss Stevens practically was whisked from the train to the M-G-M studio. The importance of her debut is indicated by the fact that Miss Stevens is cast opposite M-G-M's No. 1 male singing star, Nelson Eddy.

Clark Gable and Lana Turner, who stand pretty well up in Hollywood circles when it comes to masculine and feminine "glamour," are teamed for the first time in "Honky-Tonk," which is currently at the Atlas Theatre.

Gable plays the role of a two-fisted ingratiating card sharp in a gaudy, slam-bang gold camp, while Miss Turner appears as a prim Boston schoolteacher who came west to find her father, but instead discovered perilous adventure and romance.

2,500 Miles In Lifeboat

WASHINGTON (AP) — An extraordinary story of 13 men battling the open sea for a month was reported by the United States Navy Department last night on the basis of fragmentary information received from Wellington, N.Z.

The 13 men in a lifeboat crossed 2,500 miles of open sea from near Honolulu to one of the Gilbert Islands northeast of Australia.

At 5.30 in the morning of Dec. 19, the steamship Prusa, owned by the Lykes Brothers Steamship Company of Houston, Tex., was torpedoed and sunk, 100 miles from Honolulu. Eight were killed, the radio operator was lost and two lifeboats were launched. In one boat were Capt. G. H. Boy and 12 men, and in the other was the chief mate and 12 others.

In a few days the two lifeboats became separated. Dec. 27, after eight days in the boat, the chief mate and his 12 men were picked up and taken to Honolulu by a U.S. coastguard cutter.

Then, from Wellington, came the story the second lifeboat had landed Jan. 19 on tiny Nukunui Island, one of the Gilbert Group, approximately 2,500 miles north of New Zealand.

The greatest feat of small boat navigation in history is commonly credited to Capt. William Bligh, a British naval officer, who in 1789, following the mutiny of his crew aboard H.M.S. Bounty, sailed with 18 men and a small boat to the South Sea Islands of Tahiti to the Netherlands Island of Timor, a distance of 4,000 miles.

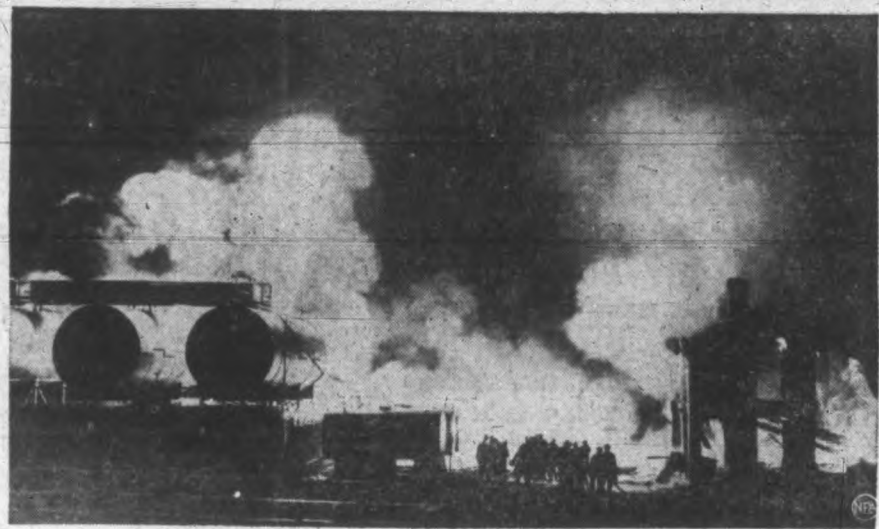

Lockheed Strength

In the Lockheed airplane, which has established such an outstanding record for stability and all-round effectiveness during the present war and which is standard equipment for Trans-Canada Airlines, the all-metal covering distributes the aerodynamic and load loads throughout the entire structure, according to Crawford Burns, city traffic representative, TCA, Victoria.

This is much more efficient and gives much greater strength than the old tubular steel structure. The metal covering is an aluminum alloy as strong as steel but with only one-third the weight.

STATIC SPARK STARTED IT—Flames and smoke against the dark shadows of the night have produced the unusually dramatic picture above, showing the destruction of part of the Penn Service Oil Co. plant in Reading, Pa. The fire was believed to have started when a spark of static electricity ignited gasoline fumes as a truck was being loaded. The resulting inferno caused more than $100,000 damage to the main office, three storage tanks and other equipment.

2 Seattle Japs Sent Tanks to Japan

SEATTLE (AP) — Joseph L. Green, supervising customs agent, revealed today that two American-born Seattle Japanese exporters, indicted Wednesday on charges of conspiring unlawfully to ship military equipment to Japan, had lawfully supplied the Japanese government with 32 tanks capable of storing 128,000 gallons of gasoline.

The Seattle Times estimated this was sufficient to enable 12,800 Japanese bombing planes to make the 10,000-mile round trip flight between Tokyo and Seattle.

The federal grand jury returned true bills against Charles T. Takahashi and Edward Y. Osawa, Seattle exporters, on charges of applying last fall for permits to send three 4,000-gallon tanks to China although they were intended for Japan. The licenses were refused under the presidential order banning shipments of such munitions to Japan, but Green said the men had shipped 32 similar tanks to Japan before the executive order made it unlawful.

He said they bought the tanks from oil companies for about $12,000 each and sold them to the Japanese government for $30,000 apiece, f.o.b., Seattle.

Founder of C.P.R. Pioneers Re-elected

VANCOUVER — Harry Mills, retired locomotive engineer from Fort William, Winnipeg and Brandon, was re-elected president for a fourth term at the annual meeting of the Canadian Pacific Railway Pioneers' Association.

Mr. Mills, one-time Ontario cabinet minister, founded this unique club of C.P.R. oldtimers more than three years ago, and by his drive and initiative has brought it to a membership of 300. Each month the members meet to hear speakers, enjoy a musical program and dine from cake and sandwiches.

Because so many Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan railroaders come out here on retirement, the club has a strong "prairie" flavor. First vice-president is Matt J. Scott, who used to be district master mechanic at Calgary; second vice-president is Capt. James Fitzsimmons, of the Canadian Pacific's lake and river steamers at Nakusp, B.C.

JAP BOATS FOR CANADA—Hundreds of fishing boats owned by persons of Japanese origin have been taken over on Canada's Pacific coast. The vessels will either be purchased or leased from the owners and operated by white fishermen for the duration of the war. Aussies Fliers Pound Jap Ship

MELBOURNE (AP) — Australian aircraft scored a direct hit on one Japanese ship and probably hit another despite bad visibility in their third attack on Rabaul, New Britain, since the island port was occupied by the Japanese, a Royal Australian Air Force communique said today.

All the Australian planes returned to their base.

Four of the 11 Japanese vessels known to be at Rabaul were reported previously to have been knocked out of action by damage from the Australian raiders.

Reconnaissance flights over the Bismarck Archipelago, of which New Britain is a part, were reported to have disclosed no developments of major importance.

NEWS AWAITED

Army headquarters reported that New Britain was believed to be the only area where land fighting is taking place. The position there is obscure. Every effort is being made to establish communication with the Australian militia and guerrilla fighters making their stand in the mountains west of Rabaul.

Formation of a special people's army, trained on the lines of Britain's home guard, for protection of the Commonwealth against invasion is to be discussed by Army Minister Francis M. Forde and Maj.-Gen. Vernon Sturdee, chief of the Australian general staff.

The War Cabinet this morning discussed reports of operations with the chiefs of staff of the three services. Forde announced later that certain "consequential communications" had been approved.

Luggage should never be stacked in front of an automobile's radiator on a trip, as it obstructs the air flow and is likely to cause the engine to overheat.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK (AP) — The lightest kind of selling was sufficient to keep the general run of stock market leaders on the downgrade in today's lackadaisical proceedings.

In arrears most of the time were U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, Du Pont, General Electric, Douglas Aircraft, Chrysler, Northern Pacific, Union Pacific, Anaconda, Kennecott and U.S. Rubber.

Resistant were South Porto Rico Sugar, Cuban-American Sugar, Coca-Cola, Pepsi-Cola, International Harvester, J. I. Case, American Can and International Nickel.

Among Canadian stocks Dome lost 1/2 and McIntyre 1/4.

Rubber Shortage May Cut Motor Accident Rate

Lately there has been more talk than usual about safety. This talk, oddly enough, has sprung from a turn in the present World war.

Last month the Japs started their attack in the Pacific. Among other things they wanted to get control of the main part of the world's rubber supply.

Safety zone of type now used in St. Louis

Most of the great rubber plantations are in the Malay region and the Dutch East Indies. So far as the Japs can block our trade with those places, we shall have less rubber.

There is another reason for us to have less rubber these days. Rubber is needed for airplanes, trucks and other war machines. As a result, the markets cannot supply us with so many tires for automobiles. On this point I have heard public speakers make statements like this:

"Motorists will feel the shortage in tires, and will not be able to drive their cars so much. That very fact should cut down the fearful toll of automobile accidents."

Perhaps it is true that the accident rate will be cut down by the smaller number of miles driven. Yet we must not forget there is another side to the story. Some persons may use their tires until they are too thin.

Worn-down tires bring special danger. They may lead to blow-outs, and blowouts sometimes cause death.

New trends will do much to meet that danger. When old tires are covered with treads, a great deal of life is added to them.

Another point I wish to make today is about "safety zones" in streets. Hundreds of cities have such zones to give greater safety to people crossing wide streets, or to provide places to wait for trolley-cars or buses.

Safety zones are a good idea, but they should be worked out in the right way. When solid blocks of concrete or iron posts are placed in the middle of a street, they bring too much danger to motorists. Safety zone fixtures of the wrong kind have led to hundreds of deaths.

In St. Louis a newspaper did a fine piece of work for the cause of safety. Two years ago the St. Louis Star-Times printed an editorial to point out the danger of safety-zone concrete blocks. The editor suggested a better type of barrier, rising gradually from the street. The city government took up the idea, and safety zones were improved in various parts of St. Louis.

HOROSCOPE

Adverse aspects are noted for today. Those in charge of legacies or trusts should be prudent at this time. It is a poor time to undertake legal matters.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

By William Ferguson

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

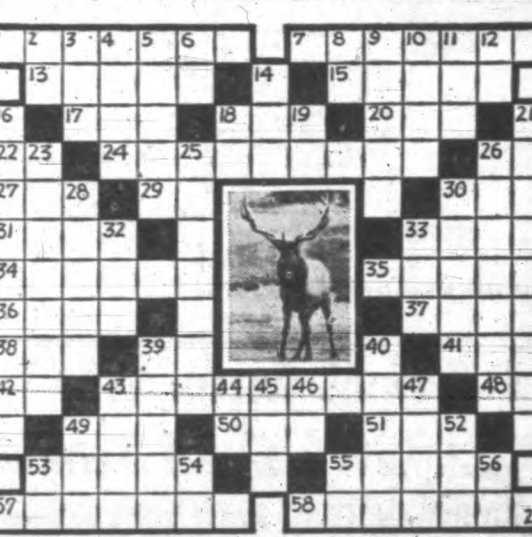

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I am a young man of 25, well-educated, very temperamental and full of sentiment. I have a fine job and want nothing else save one Heavenly item — a young, sensible, decent girl to marry. I room in a private home in which there are two girls. The younger one is 13 and I love her more than life itself. She likes me very much, but we associate with each other as a brother and sister. I am living in the hopes of marrying her when she grows up. Her mother and I often speak of this very casually. What should I do under the circumstances? Move away, remain friends living in complete anticipation of something that may never be? Or stay with these people and hope that the child will love me when she is capable of love? She is being reared the way all girls should be, domestic, decent, sensible.

Answer—You certainly must be temperamental and simply slopping over with sentiment if you think yourself romantically in love with a girl of 13. For her sake and yours I trust you will not take the matter seriously enough to get married. It would be easy to persuade the child into doing it because all young girls are flattered by the attention of grown-up men, and they think it would be very exciting to have a wedding, as it would to have any other kind of a party, and that it would be fun to play housekeeping.

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a father of a boy past 15 and a girl past 16, both attending high school. Should they each have a sweetheart and go out evenings? My wife does not try to control the children and lets the girl do as she pleases and go whenever she wants to. Some weeks she is out two or three times. What should I do?

Answer—Adolescent girls and boys of the ages of your children are old enough to go about to school parties and the movies and play about with other boys and girls of their ages, if they go in moderation. But they are entirely too young to even think of having sweethearts.

Gas Categories
Are Listed

Under the rationing plan announced from Ottawa today by G. R. Cottrell, the oil controller, all of Canada's 1,600,000 or more passenger cars, and motorcycles, will be allowed gasoline in proportion to their usefulness, but consumption for pleasure trips will be drastically reduced.

Every vehicle in the country will be designated as belonging to one of seven categories. First on the list will be the cars in "A" category—cars owned privately and driven for nonessential purposes at the bottom of the list and in the most preferred category will be vehicles used to supply the armed services, and certain other essential commercial vehicles.

Unit at First
Set at 5 Gallons

The plan calls for the issuance of books of coupons. Each book will permit the purchase of a designated number of gallons according to the category of the vehicle for which it is issued.

"To begin with," said Mr. Howe, "the unit will represent five gallons of gasoline, but the purchaser will be permitted to turn in half a coupon if he wants to buy only 2½ gallons."

"Those in category 'A' will be allowed 60 or more units, according to horsepower. This means that under the present schedule the owner of a small car driven for ordinary family use will be able to buy 300 gallons per year. Others will be rationed according to their proved needs."

The minister explained that to obtain a ration coupon book the vehicle owner must fill out an application and submit it with his 1942 motor vehicle license. He must send $1 for his gasoline privilege registration, and in return he will receive a gasoline licence and coupon book. The licence will be good for one year.

The issuers of motor vehicle licence plates in each province will issue the coupons, but anyone applying for a coupon book for a car in other than the basic, or "A" category, will have to send in his application to the nearest regional office of the oil controller.

If his application is approved he will submit it along with the fee, and his vehicle licence, to an issuer of motor vehicle licences and the latter will issue the rationing licence and coupon book.

Divisions
Clearly Set Out

The following list shows the various rationing categories and sets forth the various vehicles eligible thereunder:

Category A—All vehicles not eligible for any other category.
Category B1—Occupation—rural school teachers, farmers who do not possess a truck, clergymen, urban undertakers, urban veterinary surgeons, members of A.R.P. or auxiliary fire or police organizations.
Category B2—Employees of industrial plants and of flying schools under the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan, if such plants or schools are not adequately served by alternative forms of transportation.
Category C—Employees of industrial plants and of flying schools under the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan, if such plants or schools are not adequately served by alternative forms of transportation and are located more than 20 miles from their residence.

Government officials who drive their own cars on government business.

Urban commercial travelers—Operating executives of companies engaged on war contracts who produce a written request from the Secretary of the Department of Munitions and Supply for inclusion in category "C".

Newspaper reporters; press photographers; Railway employees who are required to use their cars on company business.

Physicians and surgeons, Christian Science practitioners, drugless healers, rural undertakers, rural veterinary surgeons, Incapacitated individuals, if required for normal conduct of business; consuls and vice-consuls of career; trade commissioners and assistant trade commissioners.

Welfare Workers
And Inspectors

Category D—Government auditors and inspectors who drive their own cars on government business.

Officers, field secretaries and nurses on the Canadian Red Cross Society or organizations which are members of the Canadian Welfare Council or other similar bodies, including religious orders engaged in welfare work.

Category E—Rural commercial

LEST WE FORGET, EVEN IN THESE TIMES—Here's something to remember, even in war times. Four-year-old Gerry King, who until four months ago faced life in bed as an infantile paralysis victim, admires a portrait of President Roosevelt in his New York home. In his hand Gerry holds an invitation to lunch at the White House on the President's birthday Friday.

Conscription Debate

OTTAWA (CP)—Opposition to the proposed conscription plebiscite and to conscription itself was expressed Wednesday by Li-gouri Lacombe, Independent Liberal member for Laval Two Mountains.

The government point of view on the plebiscite received the full support of Douglas C. Abbot, Liberal, Montreal-St. Antoine-Westmount, who said he believed in conscription. He urged an end to dispute over the plebiscite itself in order to "give the Canadian people an opportunity to show that democracy can function 'even in wartime'."

Dr. F. W. Greshaw, Liberal, Medicine Hat, also supported the government's course of action and expressed hope the plebiscite would release it from previous commitments. For the postwar period he urged retention of wartime taxes and use of the money to aid farmers, clear slums and reclaim lands.

Two Ontario Conservative speakers, Karl Homuth, Waterloo South, and C. S. White, Hastings-Peterborough, said they were against the holding of a plebiscite and in favor of immediate action.

PLANS AMENDMENT

Mr. Lacombe told the House he would vote against the government on the plebiscite proposal and that later he would move an amendment to the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne calling on the government to "keep its pledges and the terms of the mandate which it received from the people of Canada against conscription for overseas service" in the 1940 election.

travelers; rural mail delivery contractors; official cars of the Inspection Board of the United Kingdom and Canada; members of accredited foreign naval, military and air force missions; official cars of the United Kingdom and other Empire Air Liaison missions.

Members of the Diplomatic Corps eligible for inclusion in the diplomatic list published by the Department of External Affairs; Members of High Commissioners' offices and accredited representatives' offices eligible for inclusion in the "List of British Commonwealth Representatives in Canada," published by the Department of External Affairs; Consuls-General of Career; others accorded full diplomatic privileges by treaty or by the Department of External Affairs.

Category "Commercial"—Trucks (including farm trucks (farm and industrial machinery not required to be licensed or registered for highway use need not be registered).

Truck tractors; commercial motorcycles; ambulances; buses; taxi-cabs, livery cars and drive-yourself cars regularly used and registered for such use; vehicles owned or operated by companies operating flying schools under the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan; official vehicles of Dominion, provincial, county and municipal governments.

At the same time Mr. Lacombe announced the formation of a new "Canadian Party" which would direct its efforts to the prime defence of Canada, higher pay for men in the armed forces and economic and social reform.

He said "all true Canadians" and "other members" of the House would adhere to the new Canadian party.

"I request the government to respect its pledges and the terms of the anti-conscription mandate which I received from the people March 26, 1940," Mr. Lacombe said.

FINANCIERS
"Will the most powerful administration which the country has had so far withdraw before the invasion of the howling mob of rotten financiers?" he asked.

"I will not free the government from any pledge it has taken against compulsory conscription overseas, because our total war effort must be directed more than ever to the total defence of Canada."

"The Commonwealth of Australia is seriously threatened while its heroic soldiers are facing death in Africa, and while thousands of others have been mowed down in Greece and Crete," he said.

The new party would move for higher pay for men in the armed forces, Mr. Lacombe said. No service man should receive less than $4 a day exclusive of uniform and maintenance.

"The first duty of the Canadian party would be to retain the farmer on the land, to produce munitions and supplies, to organize the defence of Canada 'before all' and 'to give the defenders of our country the fair remuneration to which they are entitled.'"

RECRUITS?

It was not immediately apparent what other members would join Mr. Lacombe in his new party, but he said others would go with him.

Interviewed after the speech, he said that after the vote on the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne, he expects to remove himself from the Liberal section of the House. He will probably take a seat in the south-east corner near J. S. Roy, Independent, Gaspe, Que., who broke away from the Conservative party last session because he disliked that party's conscription policy.

Mr. Lacombe, first elected to the House as a Liberal in 1935, was returned in the 1940 general election as an Independent Liberal with a majority of 1,826 over an official Liberal candidate. Since his re-election he has been sitting and voting with the government.
